THEY HAVE RECORDS.

This May Induce Some Congressmen to Oppose the Exposition Bill.

NO VICIOUS FIGHT TO BE MADE Commissioner Miller Says That the Banks Are Not Liable.

SO THEY ESCAPE THE TAX AFTER ALL

At Least the Commissioner of Internal Revenue So Announces-Some Be-lated Kicking About Sugar.

Washington, June 7 .- (Special.) -- Senators Gordon and Walsh and Colonel Livingston have arranged to appear before the ap propriations committee of the senate very soon in the interest of the Atlanta exposition appropriation. They will urge the in-corporation of the bill as reported by the house committee in the sundry civil appropriation bill as an amendment.

This bill has already passed the house and if the exposition appropriation is incorporated in it in the senate it will not be a difficult matter to have it run safely the gauntlet of the conference committee. On the other hand, if it is not put on the sundry civil bill in the senate there may be difficulty in getting the bill through the house. Still Mr. Sayers and the other members of the appropriation committee who signed the minority report will not make a vicious fight upon it in the house. They really are not opposed to this appropriation, but having always antagonized such expenditures, they felt it incumbent upon them to mildly protest against this. Having entered their protest in the minority report they will content themselves with that. But there are many southern members who voted against the world's fair bill who think their records on that require them to fight this bill. In this lies the danger to the bill.

It is probable that Mr. John B. Gorman, of Talbotton, will be appointed consul to Matamoras, Mexico, in place of Colonel Sam Thanhouser, resigned. Mr. Moses has been urging Mr. Gorman with much earnestness and drawn both senators to his support. The appointment will probably be made within a few days.

Mrs. Crisp and her daughter, Miss Berta, left for Americus this morning. Banks Escape the Tax.

Mr. Miller, commissioner of internal revenue, said today that the defeat of the Brawley bill to relieve banks from penaltles incurred in the issue of scrip, or soalled money certificates, during the finandal stringency last summer and fall would wernment. Indeed, after the vote in the house yesterday on the amendment to the Brawley bill to repeal the 10 per cent tax on the issue of state banks, which was defeated, Mr. Springer announced that there was no necessity for the passage of the Brawley bill and it was defeated by a viva voce vote. In making the announcement Mr. Springer read a telegram from Commissioner Miller stating that no tax had been imposed upon the bank certificates issued during the panic, and there had been no effort to collect any. As a matter of fact the attorney general rendered a decision some time ago in which he sustained the law just a little and held that the certificates issued last summer were merely were not subject to taxation under the law. This decision settled the matter. The Brawley bill was only brought up in the house in order to get the state bank tax bill before it for a vote.

House Members Dissatisfied. Some bold threats are being made by nocrats of the house against the sugar schedule of the tariff bill as adopted by the senate on Tuesday. This schedule promises to be the stumbling block in conference. The house is almost unanimous in condemning it. Many members say it is absurd to predict that the house will accept this schedule which places a duty of 40 per cent on all sugars and one-eighth additional on refined, which gives the trust six-tenths of a cent per pound discrimination in its favor, when the house refused to give it a quarter of a cent discrimination, although the ways and means committee had recommended it.

There are democrats in the house who say they would rather defeat the bill than have this sugar schedule in it. As a matter of fact this schedule will almost double the price of sugar to the consumer. When you buy about twenty pounds of sugar for a dollar from your grocer today, if this schedule should go into effect you could only buy about twelve pounds for a dollar. Naturally the people will raise a protest. While they are paying a bounty now, that comes from taxation on other things. These things will be reduced to them, but they will not listen to argument of this kind when the price of sugar goes up, as it surely will should the senate schedule become a law.

Sounds Like a Bluff. Realizing this, and being naturally opposed to such decided protection to trusts, the house democrats will fight the sugar schedule to the end. The all sugar on the free list, but it may be that the men who have stood out for a bounty on sugar in the senate, threatening to de feat the bill unless they secured it, can scare the house into finally accepting it. The best democratic opinion is that no bill right now would be preferable to accepting the senate sugar schedule. Many of them believe the people would endorse a refusal on the part of the democratic party to be dictated to by a half dozen protection democratic senators and would rather have the bill go over until next session than to have one become a law which taxes sugar out of all proportion for the benefit of the trust. It seems almost suicidal to the party to increase the price of a necessary article to every house-hold 46 per cent when there is no necessity of it from a revenue standpoint. A Coxey Victory. fficially recognized by congress. The senate has provided a special committee of five senators to hear all these

No More Bonds.

Mr. Cleveland and Secretary Carlisle have adopted a new policy. They have decided no longer to annoy themselves about maintaining the gold reserve at $100,000, but to let it go down until it goes to nothing before issuing bonds. They have given it out bond issue

As a matter of fact at some seasons gold shipments from this country are very heavy, but it always comes back, and while the reserve in the treasury gets low at some times, it comes up again at others and evens itself up.

TO PROVIDE FOR MRS. DAVIS.

The Confederate Veterans Regard It as a Sacred Duty and Will Do So.

Washington, June 7 .- During the recent confederate reunion at Birmingham, Ala., a dispatch was sent to some of the newspapers representing, in effect, that the confederate veterans had abandoned all efforts to aid Mrs. Jefferson Davis on the ground of her temporary residence in New York. Senator Gordon, of Georgia, who is com-mander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans, and who presided over that meeting, has had his attention called to that telegram and is greatly annoyed at its mis-representation of the facts connected with Mrs. Davis. A correction was made immediately upon its first publication, but this correction does not seem to have been gen-erally published. General Gordon said today:

"The dispatch was not only a gross perversion of the facts calculated to deeply version of the facts calculated to deeply wound Mrs. Davis, but is an outrage on the spirit and manhood of the confederate association. The facts briefly stated are these: The committee appointed at a previous reunion to memorialize the southern states in reference to a pension for Mrs Davis reported at Birmingham that the states could not grant such a pension on account of certain clauses in the states' constitutions. Not one word of criticism was made of Mrs. Davis on account of her temporary residence in New York, nor was one thought entertained of abandoning the purpose to provide for her in the most unostentatious but ample manner. All the southern people know that Mrs. Davis and her daughter could not live alone at her home, and her intimate friends know that there exists grave reasons for their stay in New York at present. It is also generally known, I think, that every dollar of money raised after the death of Mr. Davis for the benefit of Mrs. Davis was, at her earnest request, devoted to the payment of

General Gordon added that he greatly re-gretted the necessity of referring to the matter in this way, because it was very trying to Mrs. Davis's sensibilities. "But," he added, "inasmuch as this erroneous dispatch has found circulation, I think it due to the confederate veterans to say that they regard it not only as a sacred duty, but a privilege to make from their private means ample provision for her in spite of her protest against it, and a movement for this purpose is already on foot."

Mr. Terrill will be examined particularly with reference to the versation in his rooms at the Ariington hotel overheard by Witness Gaston.

"THE POOR INDIAN"

Claimed the Attention of the House Yesterday.

Washington, June 7 .- Afte an hour pent in disposing of miscellaneous business, the house went into com-mittee of the whole, Mr. O'Neil, of Massachusetts, in the chair to consider the Indian appropriation bill.

In the course of a colloquy between Mr.

The terms of the bill were explained for the committee on Indian affairs by Mr. Lynch, of Wisconsin. The appropriations for the current year were $7,854,240; the estimates by the department for the year 1895, $6,931,757; amount carried by the bill, $5,611,851.

South Carolina's Prohibitionists Conclude Not to Nominate One.

BUT THEY WILL BE IN THE CAMPAIGN

Their Plan Is to Get Pledges from Candidates for the Legislature.

MANY OPPOSE THE DISPENSARY

A Resolution Condemning It Fails to Pass, However-Tillmanism Is Admitted to Stronger Than Prohibition.

Columbia, S. C., June 7 .- (Special.)-When the state prohibition convention met, in the hall of the house of representatives at 6 o'clock this afternoon, ninety delegates, representing twenty-four of the thirty-five counties, were present. The convention contains a large number of preachers and a fair spirnkling of Tillmanite poiiticians. The remainder are persons who have been known as dyed-in-the-wool prohibitionists. Prominent among the latter are L. D. Childs, chairman of the executive committee, and the acknowledged cold water leader in the state, and D. S. Roper a member of the legislature and privat secretary to Senator Butler.

It is the prevailing sentiment among the Tillmanite delegates that the dispensary law is the most practical solution of the whisky queston.

Chairman Childs, in callling the convention to order, declared that when his committee commenced work two years ago 600 barrooms were open in the state, while now not one drop of liquor could be sold except by "outlaws and sneaking fugitives."
The significant expression of his speech was the statement that all true prohibitionists, whatever ther factional affiliations might be, were unalterably opposed to le-galizing the sale of intoxicants, thus intimating that a compromise on the dispensary would not be accepted. He appealed to all the delegates to lay aside political prejudices and preferences.

Captain James A. Hoyt.of Greenville, was elected temporary chairman and Mr. Wal-ter Herbert secretary. This organization was afterwards made permanent.

Committees on platform and resolutions were then appointed, after which a recess was taken for supper.

The committee on resolutions reported in favor of taking action looking to nominating a state ticket. W. L. Gray supported the report in a strong speech. W. D. Evans, president of the state alliance, stated that he had been elected a delegate with the understanding that no nomination be made. If nominations were to be made he was not in sympathy with the convention and did not wish to be bound by it. He therefore desir-ed to have his name stricken from the roll. Delegate Williams declared that prohibition could not win except by the votes of reformers and reformers would not desert their movement for prohibition. W. L. Gray, of Laurens, introduced a resolution reciting that abolition of the con vention system had been a prominent plank of the farmers' movement platform. That faction had called a convention in violation of this to nominate state officers from which all others were to be excluded and resolving, in view of this, that the prohibitionists nominate a ticket to be supported by them in state democratic primaries, pledging themselves, though, to abide by the result of their primaries.

Pledges to Be Required.

E. D. Smith met this with a resolution declaring against the expendiency of nominating a state ticket and advising prohibition-ists to endeavor to elect slegislature pledg-ed to enact a prohibition measure, binding prohibitionists to support only candidates who pledged themselves to so vote.

The committee on platform reported a platform condemning license or sale of in toxicants by the state except for medical. mechanical or sacramental purposes, in-sisting that such sales should be absolutely prohibitive and that the executive officer: of the law should be in full sympathy with prohibition sentiments. The platform was unanimously adopted by a rising vote. Af-ter debating the report of the committee on resolutions favoring nominations for two hours a substitute was offered providing terrogated as to their position on the prohibition issue. A motion to table this was lost by a vote of 45 to 27, indicating that the sentiment of the convention is against nominations. The debate has taken a turn upor the merits of the dispensary. Delegate Scott declares that the trouble is that there is more Tillmanism and anti-Tillmanism and dispensarism in the convention than

The convention, at 1:45 passed a resolution against making nominations. Lake's resolution, providing that candidates for all offices be interrogated as to their attitude on the prohibition issue was adopted. At 2 o'clock, a. m. the convention adjourned. Ohio Prohibitionists.

Columbus, O., June 7.—The state prohibi-tion convention today nominated the fol-lowing ticket: For secretary of state, R. G. accasine, of Kent; for supreme court judge, John Roseborough, of Elmere; for school commissioner, F. V. Irish, of Columbus; for member of the board of public works, H. T. Earles, of Ironton.

The Democrats Prepare to Make It Lively This Summer.

Columbia, S. C., June 7.-Special.)-The democratic state executive committee met here tonight. The following schedule of campaign meetings was adopted: Yorkville, Tuesday, June 19th; Chester, June 20th; Lancaster. June 21st: Camden. Most of the time of the committee was spent in discussing the question whether those who pledged themselves at the last primary to vote for the democratic nomi-nees and then voted for Weaver should be allowed to vote in the primaries. There was some lively talk on this line, most of the speakers being in favor of letting the Weaverites in.

the Weaverites in.

Chairman Irby stated that as chairman he did not propose to dodge the question. He hoped the members would march right up to the front. As chairman he would not hesitate, should it become necessary by a tie vote, to express his convictions.

Edwards, of Pawnee county, for secretary of state, and George C. Cole, of Crawford county, for auditor. These are the tariff and financial planks of the platform: "2. We adhere to the republican doctrine of protection and believe that tariff laws should protect the products of the farm as well as of the factory.

"3. The American people favor bimetal-lism and the republican party demands the use of both gold and silver as standard money with such restrictions and under such provisions, to be determined by legishation, as will secure the maintenance of the parity of values of the two metals and that the purchasing and debt paying power of the dollar, whether gold, or silver, or paper, shall be at all times equal. The interests shall be at all times equal. Savannah, Ga., June 7.—(Special.)—An important business meeting will be held at the cotton exchange tomorrow. A large committee from Charleston will be over to meet members from the board of trade and meet members from the board of trade and the cotton exchange for the purpose of discussing the matter of the reduction of differential on cotton between Virginia ports and those of the south Atlantic. The differential was reduced last December from 11 cents on the bale to 6 cents, which gives the Virginia ports a favorable rate. The consequence is receipts at the south Atlantic ports have been standily failing of the ports have been steadily falling off.
The commercial men will look into the matter and see if the differention cannot be restored. The railroad men say it was reduced so as to allow the roads to the north Atlantic ports to catch their share of

STRIKERS THREATEN AN ATTACK

GOVERNOR JONES AT THE FRONT

He Orders the Men Out of Bed and Rushes

Them Offst Midnight-The Situation Is Bad.

Birmingham, Ala., June 8.-At 2 o'clock a. m. the following special was received by The Age-Herald:

"Camp Forney, 2 o'clock a. m., June 8 .-The soldiers have just left for Blue Creek on a special train of three cars over the Birmingham Mineral railroad. Colonel Price Williams is in command and Governor Jones and all the regimental officers accompany them. "The men were awakened just after 12 o'clock and ordered to prepare for marching. At 1 o'clock they were served with luncheon and directly thereafter marched to the special train, which was standing at the Birmingham Mineral depot awaiting them. The Gatling guns and several of the artillery men were taken along. Just enough men to guard Camp Forney were left behind, nearly 300 having gone to Blue Creek. "The cause of the soldiers being ordered to Blue Creek is the reported presence of a body of 500 striking miners near there, and the fear that they would either destroy property of the Tennessee Coal and Iron

Railroad Company or kill some of the miners employed in the mines at that place. "At 12 o'clock Governor Jones received a telegram from Mr. H. F. Debardeleben that 500 striking miners, supposed to be armed, were in the vicinity of the Blue Creek mines and asked that the soldiers be sent there at once. The special train started from Birmingham at 12 o'clock and came by way of Boyles, arriving here at 1 o'clock, with Mr. Debardeleben, his gon and others on board. Before leaving camp Governor Jones made a short speech to the boys in which he paid a high tribute to the Alabama citizen soldiery and urged them to the full discharge of their duty. "At 2:15 o'clock a sentinel has just fired on a body of armed men who came near his post and refused to halt when commanded to do so. The men ran off, no one being hurt, and at this moment everything

The others charged on the crowd and bid them disperse.

The mob refused to move at first, when the police were augmented by other deputies. Again the police notified the men to disperse and this time the order was obeyed. No further trouble occurred. At the busi-

Monongahela City, Pa., June 7.—Late to night the situation at Manown has be come very threatening, and there are now indications of an approaching battle. Reports say the strikers have apparently surrounded the works and that there has been a continual fire of signal shots from the opposite side of the river. These signals are answered by lights from above the works. The deputy sheriffs are building barricades and entrenching themselves. The Youghlogheny Coal Company has twenty men at work in the mines at Manown, guarded by one hundred deputy sheriffs. These are what the mob are after.

THE WAR IN COLORADO.

A Skirmish Between the Miners and Deputies.

Cripple Creek, Col., June 7.—There was not much blood spilled in Cripple Creek today, but it was marked by a few inci-dents of becerest and one at least that proved a triffe of excitement. This oc-curred in the vicinity of the deputies camp this morning at 10 o'clock. A number of the cavairy horses of the deputy force had strayed bevond the picket lines and a small squad was sent out to round them up and drive them into camp. In the dis-charge of this duty they were taken rather nearer than they had been formerly to the timber in which the miners' guards were concealed and the latter opened fire upon them. The herding squad returned the fire and, the cavalry coming to their support, firing become general for several minutes. About 200 shots were fired during the skir-About 200 shots were fired during title sale-mish, but though some close misses were made by the miners' sharp shooters, the distance separating the beligerents was too great to render the firing disastrous to either side. A couple of saddles and rolled up rain coats were perforated and a horse was hit in hind hoof, but beyond that the deputies came off unscathed. The firing caused great excitement on Bull Hill and the signal calling out the garrison—the Pikes peak whistle—blew long and loud. At 2:30 p. m. the First regiment, Colorado National Guard, arrived. The Second regiment is at Divide awaiting transportation. It is expected to arrive in Gillet during the nght. The deputies complain bitterly of having been restrained from soing upon the hill unassisted by the militia. Their demonstrations this evening after the arrival of the latter plainly indicate that their blood is up and if allowed to go up with the state troops it will take but little provocation from the miners to precipitate trou-ble. To Attack Bull Hill. Colorado Springs, Colo., June 7.—It is re-ported here tonight that another fight is in-progress at Cripple Creek. Governor Waite has wired Sheriff Bowers that the militia must not occupy the disturbed district and that arined deputies will not be allowed within their lines. It is claimed that the deputies have obtained permission from Sheriff Bowers to attack Bull Hill and serve warrants, and as only part of the militia have arrived at Gillette, the deputies outnumber the troops two to one and are strong enough to enter the camp anead of the soldier boys. Should this plan be carried out martial law will be declared and has wired Sheriff Bowers that the militia carried out martial law will be declared and

The Commonwealers Tired of Being Martyrs, Pay Their Fines.

Martyrs, Pay Their Fines.

Washington, June 7.—Coxey, Carl Browne and Jones, notwitnstanding all their professions to the contrary, are tired of martyrdom. Jones, the Philadelphia leader, was only sentenced to twenty days; the other two had the option of serving ten days more or paying each $5 fine. If they ever had any serious intention of remaining in jail ten days they have changed their minds now, for this morning when Richardson now, for this morning when Richardson Anderson, the van driver, went to the jail was handed $10, sent to him by Coxey, with a request that the fines be paid.

This the van driver did and the three commonwealers will be turned out of pris-on Saturday probably about noon. Since Wednesday night they have been encamped on the Hoges farm, four miles north, and have given him their boats. The city officials have sworn in 200 special police, who are strung across the northern simits of the city, armed with Winchester rifles and shotguns. The rumor is current tonight that the army will move across the peninsula to Mound City before daylight. The adjacent river banks, in Missouri and Kentucky, are closely patrolled to keep the invaders from landing.

FLOWERS FOR THE DEAD. The Tomb of Lee and the Grave of

Jackson Are Decorated. Lexington, Va., June 7.—(Special.)—Confederate Memorial Day was observed here today and an address was delivered in the Washington and Lee university chapel by Hon. John Randolph Tucker. He paid a high tribute to both the living and the dead heroes of the south. The tomb of General Robert E. Lee, the graves of "Stonewali" Robert E. Lee, the graves of "Stonewall" Jackson, Brigadier General William N. Pendleton, chief of artillery of the Army of Northern Virginia, and other confederate heroes were decorated. The organizations which participated in the ceremonies were the cadets of the Virginia Military institute, headed by their band; the faculty and students of the Washington and Lee university, the Lexington volunteer fire department, the Lee-Jackson camp and other confederate veterans. During the ceremonies minute guns were fired by a detachment from the old Rockbridge battery and the cadets fired a salute of five rounds. Twenty-five hundred people witnessed the decorating of the graves. Robert E. Lee, the graves of "Stonewall

EVANS IN SUMTER.

The Democrats of Americus Give the General a Grand Reception.

REMARKABLE ENTHUSIASM PREVAILS

Young Men Take the Horses from the Car riage and Pull the Brave General Through the Streets.

Americus, Ga., June 7 .- (Special.)-This has been an Evans field day in Americus, and no candidate has ever received a bigger ovation than General Evans had from the people of Sumter. General Evans came on special train from Cordele at 3 o'clock to speak here tonight. He was accompanied by an enthusiastic crowd of Dooly Evans men, numbering several hundred. Americus met the train with a band and carriage and four for General Evans. The demor stration was tremendous. A party of about thirty Atkinson men came over from Dooly on the train, but they were lost in the Alarmed at the enthusiasm of the Evans men, the Atkinson leaders tried to stem the tide by getting up a mass meeting at the city hall in opposition to the Evans rally at the opera house, but they failed.

The opera house was beautifully decorated with evergreens and flowers and large pictures of Lee and Stonewall Jackson hung over the stage. Americus is one city where the young men are for General Evans and the campaign that closes tonight has been marked by some fine work from the Evans boys. Two hundred of them took General Evans in charge and one of their number Mr. A. E. Nisbet, was selected to introduce

When the carriage started to the opera house scores of hands took the horses out and pulled the carriage to the place of speaking. No such demonstration was ever given a public man in Americus, hundreds being turned away. The young men took sion of the stage and when General Evans appeared the audience was wild with enthusiasm. Mr. Nisbet introduced Genera Evans in a brilliant speech that aroused enthusiasm to the highest pitch.

General Evans, under the inspiration of the occasion, made a magnificent speech, pronounced by many the finest political speech ever heard. He replied to his critics in eloquent words. The young men cheered him to the echo as he scored point after point in his own favor to the discomfiture of his enemies. He turned the "me, too" charge on his opponent, showing how General Evans led while Atkinson followed. He showed up his opponent's change of front on the administration question, how he followed on the convict lease question and even wanted to go to Atlanta to rive because General Evans was there too. The point was made that where joint debates occurred General Evans won. In comparing records, the speaker asked if four years of war were not equal to eight years in the Georgia legislature, and in response the house again went wild. The general said that he gained his title of confederate general, and preferred it to the title of General Bragger. He demolished the Atlanta ring canaid and the boodle charge and defended his record as a minis ter. He closed at 10 o'clock with a flight of eloquence that caused the young democracy to almost lift the roof, and amid a tre mendous ovation he was borne from the opera house to the carriage which was drawn by yelling crowds to the Central depot, where he took the train for Waycross. The Atkinson men had speeches at the city hall by Colonel W. M. Hawkes and Joe Dunham, but the crowd soon drifted over to the opera house and was lost in the burst of Evans enthusiasm that swept over Americus like a tornado. Measured by the enthusiasm General Evans should carry Sumter by 1,000 majority tomorrow.

Savannah, Ga., June 7 .- (Special.) - The smooth qualities of Savannah politicians were shown up in good light today when a little story came to light about some of the methods that have been practiced during the last two or three days. all these places he had large and enthusias-tic crowds, and his speeches were chaste, strong, beautiful and forcible. He has doubtless made many converts. He had but little to say about his opponent. There is little or no doubt about General Evans carrying Stewart county by a good majority.

Working for Clifton. Brunswick, Ga., June 7.—(Special.)—It is probable that a special train will be run from Brunswick to Waycross on Saturday next filled with supporters of Hon. W. Y. Atkinson. Since Glynn's primary, interest has centered politically on Clifton's race for the office of secretary of state, and his friends here are busying themselves in writ-ing letters over the state in his behalf. The people in this section want Clifton nomi-nated as a tribute to wiregrass Georgia's work for the party.

Atkinson in Thomas.

Thomasville, Ga., June 7.-(Special.)-Colonel W. Y. Atkinson spoke here today to an audience of less than three hundred people, half of whom were Evans men. His speech was the same that he delivers everywhere. Thomas county can be put down in the Evans column unless great changes take s expected to speak here early next week.

It was after 11 when his son, Dr. A. B. Hinkle, was awak-ened by his father's heavy breathing. The alarm was given and doctors summoned as soon as possible. Atrophine is being administered and the doctors are using every effort to revive him. His pulse is good, but he is rigid and unconscious and scarcely breathing. If not relieved it is thought death will come in a few hours. His counsel spent some hours with him yeste day, discussing the recent adverse decision of the supreme court and the prospects of anything further being done for him. It is supposed that as no hope could be held out, he made up his mind to take his life. At this moment Dr. Darby pronounces his case as hopeless.

SOUTHERN INDUSTRIES.

What The Manufacturers' Record Has to Say in Its Weekly Review.

Baltimore, Md., June 7.—The Manufac-turers' Record, in 4ts weekly review of the business conditions of the south, says: The record of new enterprises reported in the south for the past week indicates increasing activity without needing any reports from other sources to confirm that despite the strikes and railroad wars there are signs of improvement in nearly all southern states. Several short lines of railroad are being undertaken to open up mineral and timber lands, one sixty-mile line under contract in eastern Kentucky being backed by wealthy Lake Superior iron men, who hav made heavy purchases of coal lands which will be reached by this new road. It is au-thoritatively announced that a steel plant to cost about $1,,000,000 will be built in Alaama, and The Manufactuerers' Record is informed that ample means have been se-cured for its construction. Considering its wide-reaching influence upon southern metallurgical advancement this is one of the the south for several years. Among the eading projects, in addition to this steel plant, reported for the week are a $100,000 lumber and turpentine plant, ice factory and waterworks in Alabama; a $75,000 mercantile company, $5,000 steamboat line, $25,-000 tobacco manufacturing concern and a $100,000 lumber company in Louisiana; a $10,000 cotton mill, $10,000 river improvement company and a $12,000 fence company in South Carolina; a $50,000 cotton oil mill, stavemill, sawmills, electric light plant, etc., in Tennessee; a $50,000 mercantile company, $5,000 drug company, $5,000 plating works, sawmills, tannery, etc., in Georgia; lumber plants, cigar factories, fibre factory, waterworks, etc., in Florida; furniture factory and an electric plant in Mississippi; a $16,000 land improvement com-pany, mines and quarries, knitting mill, brickworks, etc., in Virginia.

AGAINST THE SOUTHWESTERN. Justice Jackson's Decision in the Tripartite Bond Case Is Affirmed.

New Orleans, June 7 .- The case of the Southwestern Railroad Company appellants vs. the Central Railroad Company of Georgia, et. al., appealed from the southern district of Georgia, has been desided. In deciding the issue the court did the judgment appealed from being affirmed. Judges Pardee, Locke and McCormick presided. In deciding the issue th court did not hand down a lengthy opinion, but, by considering the reasons given by Judge Howell E. Jackson, who presided over the trial in the court below on the application made for a rehearing, declared them suffi-cient and conclusive. Judge Pardee dis-sented from the opinions of Judges McCormick and Locke. Judge Jackson's opinion covered a number of points of constitutions law and closed by saying that in no view taken of the case was the Southwestern entitled to the relief sought. The petition for a rehearing was dismissed and the decree will stand as passed, charging the

LONG IS IN THE RACE

He Is Making It Interesting, Too. for Bankhead.

SERIOUS CHARGE PUBLICLY MADE

The Congressman Is Accused of Making Contribution to the Jeffersonian Cam-paign Fund in the Last Campaign.

Montgomery, Ala., June 7.—(Special.)—The fight over the congressional nomination in the sixth Alabama district is warming up to fever heat. Hon. John H. Bankhead is the present representative from that dis-trict, and among the most active of the five hustlers for his job is Hon. T. L. Long, of Walker county. Mr. Long is young, ag-gressive and a hard fighter. Not long ago a report become circulated that Colonel Bankhead had contributed to the Jeffersonan campaign fund in the Jones-Kolb con-test and the congressman came out in a card and very promptly denied the truth of the charge. Mr. Long now comes to the front and prints the following in The

Tuscaloosa Gazette:

"Jasper, Ala., June 4.—Editor Gazette,
Tuscaloosa, Ala.: The Hon. J. H. Bank-head has begun to write letters. He says that he 'did not contribute to the Weaver campaign fund, nor has he ever contributed either by act, word or money to the suc-cess of the enemies of the democratic party in that or any other campaign.'

"In order to refresh the captain's memory and give him an opportunity to defend himself against the specific charges which have been made against him, I make the following statement:

Makes the Charge Direct. "1, On or about September 1, 1892, pending the presidential election, and after the orable Jones-Kolb campaign, the chairman of the Jeffersonian state executive committee, who was also chairman of the Jeffersonian campaign committee, wired from Birmingham to Captain Bankhead, at Fayette Courthouse, his home, asking permission to draw on him for $250 or $300. "2. In response to said telegram, on the next day thereafter, Captain Bankhead's son, J. H. Bankhead, Jr., at the instance son, J. H. Bankhead, Jr., at the instance of Captain Bankhead, appeared in Bir-mingham, and at the Florence hotel in that city gave to the chairman of the Jef-fersonian campaign committee $250 or $300, the amount stated in said telegram.

"These are the charges made against Captain Bankhead. Let him answer them as specifically as they are made and rtate specifically wherein they are untrue.

specifically wherein they are untrue.

"While it is not my intention to enter into a bitter campaign with any of the democratic aspirants to the high office of representative in congress from this district, yet this is a matter of political importance to every democrat and not a question of mud-slinging at Captain Bankhead's private character.

"This statement is made necessary because news has lately reached me from various parts of the district that some of the supporters of Captain Bankhead are charging that myself and friends are responsible for the first circulation of these charges and denying their truthfulness and endeavoring to make political capital out of the same to the prejudice of my candidacy.

"I write this in justice to my political supporters, and hereby pledge myself ready to establish the truthfulness of the foregoing charges.

THROUGH A BURNING TRESTLE. Striking Miners Are Suspected of Setting It on Fire. Birmingham, Ala., June 7.—(Special.)— This morning at 5 o'clock a west-bound freight train on the Georgia Pacific railroad reight train on the Georgia Pacific railroad ran into a burning trestle near Patton, sixty mile west of here. The engine and eight cars went down and were practically destroyed by fire. The fire was near a big curve and could not be seen by the engineer until it was too late to stop the train. Engineer Goodman had his ankle broken and is badly bruised. Fireman Charles Berry was severely cut on the head. Brakeman Joe Mabry had a hand broken and Joe Scott an arm dislocated. The loss of property is very heavy. The fact that no train had passed over the road for ten hours makes it appear as if the fire was of incendiary origin. The fact that the train was loaded with so-called scab coal has led some to the conclusion that the bridge was fired by strikers.

RAILROADS AT LAW

The Central Is Trying to Eject the East Teanessee.

RIGHT OF WAY IN DISPUTE

It Is in Possession of the East Tennesse and the Other Road Claims It,

Macon, Ga., June 7 .- (Special.)-Attorney General Terrell is in Macon in attendance on the trial of the case of the Central rail-road vs. the East Tennessee railroad, which involves about three thousand feet of right of way along the streets and through the city of Macon. The Central is represented by Attorneys Steed, Wimberly and Cooper of Macon, and A. R. Lawton, Jr., of Sanah. The East Tennessee is represen ed by Hill, Harris and Birch, of Macon. As the streets of Macon belong to the state of Georgia, the attorney general is presen to protect the state's interests. The case is exceedingly important. There is a large number of witnesses. The hearing is be-fore Judge Hardeman. The particulars of the suit, briefly, are as follows: The case involves about three thousan feet of right of way in the city of Mucor extending from Boundary street to Haz street and at present claimed, used and controlled by the East Tennessee railroad. The Central road desires possession of it and alleges that the right of way really and alleges that the right of way really belongs to the Southwestern railroad and is a part of the right of way originally granted to the Southwestern road years ago by the city of Macon and in turn leased or loaned by the Southwestern to the old Macon and Brunswick road, now a branch of the East Tennessee, running from Macon to Brunswick

About eight or nine years ago when Cap tain W. G. Raoul was in charge of the Central road, he wrote to the East Tennessee officials for the use of the trackage on the right of way for Central railroad cars, and the East Tennessee officials replied to the effect that ordinarily it would give the East Tennessee great pleasure to accom-modate the Central, but the trackage was needed exclusively for the long and many trains of the East Tennessee. On receipt of this communication Captain Raoul began suit in Bibb superior court for Raoul began suit in Bidd superior court for the recovery of the right of way, alieging it to be the property of the Southwestern, a leased line of the Central, and never did belong to the East Tennessee.

The case has been on the docket since At times it appeared that a nent or compromise of the matter would Over Twelve Hundred Names. Over 1,200 names have been enrolled here as supporters of Atkinson for governor. There is no regular club, but there is an organization of citizens that is very enthusi-astic for the gentleman from Coweta. The Evans men are also on the alert and are railying followers to their standard. The nonceations are strong for an interesting contest in Bibb on next Thursday.

Statehouse Officers, Also. Statehouse Officers, Also.

There is confusion in the public mind in regard to the time when statehouse officers are to be voted for. The people do not know whether these officers will be voted for on the 14th at the primary for governor, or whether they will be chosen at the mass meeting to be held on the 18th, when a new executive committee is to be chosen. The Constitution correspondent is informed that the statehouse officers will be voted for at the primary on June 18th.

The Grand Chancellor. The Grand Chancellor.

The Knights of Pythias of Macon are preparing for the public installation of officers of the four loages here, which interesting exercise will be held at the Academy of Music on the night of July 5th. One of the most attractive features of the programme will be an address by Grand Chancellor Hamilton Douglas, of Atlants. There is a large membership of Knights of Pythias in this city.

Allowed to Give Bond.

It will be rememored that a few days ago ex-Postmaster J. B. Roberts, of Sandersville, was tried in the United States court and sentenced to imprisonment in the Ohio penitentiary for two years and confinement in the Bibb county jail for one year. Ex-Postmaster Roberts has, for years, been a practicing physician. His wife is critically ill, and his presence at her bedside and as her regular doctor may be the means of saving her life. Today Judge Speer signed an order allowing Dr. Roberts to give bond in the sum of $3,000, good for thirty days, so he can go home to see his wife. At the end of thirty days Mr. Roberts must return to Macon to await the further orders of the court. Strong efforts will be made to have the president pardon ex-Postmaster Roberts. Newsy Notes.

ARIS COMPANI

IN DUST AND HEAT.

A Sweltering Day for the Soldier Boys at Camp Northen.

YESTERDAY THE BEST DAY SO FAR

The Regular Routine Enlivened by a Desertion-The Atlanta Boys in Camp. Personal Notes of the Boys.

Camp Northen, June 7 .- (Staff Correspon dence.)-Heat and dust were the foes that the jeans-clad soldier boys had to met to day. Shimmering waves of heat hung like a finely spun silken curtain over the parade grounds, and it seemed as if several choice town lots in the suburbs of Griffin had lifted their valuable selves into space in finely pulverized particles.

The night before the boys were shivering in their tents from the effects of a little one-horse blizzard, and the complete change of temperature was not popular. The company drill at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon under a sun that would have melted Stone mountain, was not an exercise that the twenty-two companies that were in it enjoy ed. And all day long, the persistent, pene trating, permeating dust sifted into camp and settled in the large pools of perspira tion on the soldiers' brows.

Between the hard routine of the morning, ending at 9 o'clock, and the company drill and parade in the afternoon, beginning at 4 o'clock, the one thousand soldiers in camp here enjoy quiet slestas in their private quarters. Neighboring companies visit each other, little social clubs are formed and but for the ghost of hard routine that sits at both ends of the day, the soldiers would have a passably nice tîmé of it.

But the big, hard fact of work ahead pro jects itself into their off hours. The soldier drops upon his cot at 10 o'clock-they retire at that time according to the regulations—with the harrowing prospect of being called with the sun and being hustled, with short intermission, right into the du ties prescribed for West Pointers. The guard mount, battalion drill and other wearing exercises of the morning are hardly more pleasant in anticipation than in re

These ended, the menial duty of sweeping up the accumulated trash heaps of the past up the accumulated trash heaps of the past night and day follows. If some of the best girls of some of the best boys could take a short peep into camp say about 9 in the morning, they would see a spectacle that they would enjoy for weeks. Think of Joe Schmidt, or Sam Small,Jr., or Edgar Thompson or Wallace Francis piling trash. Think of Sandy Cunningham lugging two mountainous mattresses through the stress upon tainous mattresses through the streets upon his shoulders! Think of two privates car-rying, at the sergeant's order, two huge trunks that would puzzle an expert baggage smasher to handle.

It is raw and warm by the time these little duties are over, and if the tired soldier drops upon his cot for a rest, it would be— a surprise—a surprise because the boys in camp have such a surplus of spirit that they allow nothing to fade them. One of them remarked yesterday:

"I haven't slept but two hours since I've

"You are one ahead of me," said a soldier sitting by; "I've slept one."

By some the encampments have been idays, and by others a hard, fatiguing and laborious. Neither of these statements is true. The life of a sol-dier at Camp Northen is the most diverse mixture of work, hard work, and pleasure that I have seen. The pleasant feature of the encampment consists more in the happy nature of the soldier, the congenial companionship of his fellows and the novelty of camp life-certainly not in exemption from

Today was the best day of the encampment, so far. The boys had become thoroughly settled down and in good working order. They were promptly on deck when called, and the finest battalion drill yet witnessed was had. The companies showed snap and vim and marched about with lected at inspection for general neatness and dress and person. Privates W. R. Gramling and Will Glover, of the Rifles. captured these two offices, which are the highest honors that a private can get.

There was no change of routine today. The officers' meeting was held at 11 o'cloc speeches were made to the assembled eers by Colonel Varnadoe and Lieutenant These meetings are veritable schools and do a vast deal of good. Every emptory order.

In the afternoon the usual company drill and dress parade occurred. The former began at 4 o'clock and was the hottest work the boys have done since they have been in camp. The heat was oppressive and the dust next to unbearable, but the soldier bys stood it out bravely.

The dress parade was witnessed by two or three hundred people from Griffin, mostly ladies. The two regiments and the three companies of cavalry made a magnificent showing. The Fifth Regiment band discoursed magnificent would have in coursed martial music that would have inspired the soul of the most unpatriotic sol-

A Soldier's Desertion.

The talk of the camp today was the arrest of Private Fletcher, of the Atlanta Zouaves. Fletcher turned up missing at foil call yesterday morning and his friends were alarmed. Colonel Candler and Captain Baker, of the Zouaves, felt that discipline had been outgraved.

cipline had been outraged. The missing soldier was arrested when he put in an appearance and carried before Colonel Candler. The somewhat novel spectacle of the soldier being marched through camp to the colonel's tent under escort of an orderly was viewed by nearly all the hows in comments.

Colonel Candler gave Fletcher the minimum penalty for being absent without leave—forty-eight hours in the guardhouse. Like a good soldier, Fletcher donned his cap and marched to the guardhouse. He was put in a room in the rear and left there, the only prisoner in the barracks. Two hours later a search was made for the imprisoned soldier—missing again. The escape of the Zouave was something that only a good soldier could achieve. He climbed an eight-foot wall and went through two difficult windows and landed outside a free man. He quickly made he way out of camp and reappeared no more. Colonel Candler was at once notified and took steps to recapture the fugitive soldier.

took steps to recapture the fugitive soldier. A special detail was sent to Griffin to arrest him should he attempt to board the train there and a telegram was sent to Chief Connolly, at Atlanta, asking for Fletcher's arrest as a deserter.

Colonel Candler intends to enforce the most rigid discipline in this case, and if Fletcher is caught anywhere in the state he will be brought back here by a detail of three soldiers dispatched for him by Colonel Candler. He will be courtmartialed. The penalty is either fine or imtialed. The penalty is either fine or imprisonment.

The order in camp is perfect. It was re marked today by several oid soldiers that a quieter crowd never entered camp. The Atlanta boys were indignant over an article in one of the Griffin papers today which said some hard things about a detachment of the boys that paid Griffin a visit last night night.

Camp Notes. The Atlanta companies stand among the first companies here, both in the character of the men composing them and in military training. The Atlanta Rifles, the senior company, takes a first stand in everything that is done. A cleverer set of fellows were never brought together and they are reap-ing all the pleasure and benefit out of the encampment that they find hanging around Lieutenant Billie Richardson was in com Lieutenant Billie Richardson was in command of the Rifles today in the absence of Captain Nash. He is one of the most courtly officers in camp, and carries the boys into drill or on parade with a fine show of snap and energy. In adjoining tents to the Rifles are the Zouaves, under command of Captain Amos Baker, one of the fattest and most popular officers in the state, and they never fall to attract favorable comment.

The Hibernian Rifles occupy the next line of tents, and no new company ever mani-fested more military spirit. The boys are thoroughly enthusiastic and have been complimented more than once by the officers of the regiment. Captain Ellis makes a gallant leader for these sons of Erin. The Capital City Guards, commanded by Captain E. W. Hewitt, a veteran military man, are making a military man, are making a record to be proud of. This is the company's first experience in camp.

The Atlanta Rifles and the Marietta Rifles have become so intimate that there is talk of amalgamating the two companies. They or amaignmating the two companies. They mess together, spend their oif hours together and conduct a spirited rivalry in all things pertaining to the standing of the companies. They make a feature of going into dinner. The Marietta boys have with into dinner. The Marietta boys have with them two colored guitar artists, who al-ways march in front of the company into the mess hall, making march music the

The Atlanta Rifles were not to be out-done. Lieutenant Richardson o ganized a company band, consisting of Sam Small Jr., with a banjo, and Albin Haynes, with a mandolin, and constituting Mr. Ira Fort drum major, the thing was done. The mess halls of the two companies are side by side, and the boys chaff each other as they Lieutenant John Boston was in command of the Marietta Rifles today. Lieutenant Boston is a prince of good fellows and his appearance anywhere in camp is always greeted with hearty salutes. He has become a general favorite with the Atlanta boys. His company presents a fine appearance, and has the distinction of being the first company in the history of the state to organize, enlist and be admitted to the state militia in six weeks' time. In drilling state militia in six weeks' time. In drilling the company is right up to the notch.

The cutest soldier at the camp is little Asa Candler, the nine-year-old son of Colonel Candler. He is every inch a soldier, and follows the life of a soldier. He is the second lieutenant of the machine gun platoon, and drilled with them today in soldierly style. He was breveted by Gov ernor Northen at Chickamauga when in his kilts. He is a phenomenally bright youth, and has a thorough understanding of tac-tics. He is the pet of the camp.

There is always a fringe of young ladies on the outskirts of the camp. Today many of the tents were graced by the presence of the fair ones. Among the ladies on the grounds today were Miss Lizzie and Irene Lovejoy, of Atlanta, and Miss Ida Mangham, of Macon, Mrs. Colonel Candler attended dress parade. A big delegation of ladies are expected Saturday and Sunday.

Saturday and Sunday are to be the important days in camp. Saturday is governor's day, and he will review the troops in campaign uniform. The programme has not yet been arranged, but the review will occur about 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Sunday's programme will be arranged to suit the convenience of the visitors, most likely. Guard mount will probably occur an hour later in the morning in order to allow the visitors to see it, and dress pa-rade will occur an hour earlier. Services will be held in the morning by Chaplains Williamson and Wood. The Fifth Regiment band will furrish the music. The serv will be held in open air and the boys take their camp chairs along. The services

Surgeon Blalock has become immensely popular at the camp. Arrayed in the regu-lation uniform of blue shirt and jeans pants, he presents a striking figure.

The cavalry companies occupy the ex treme western end of the encampment ground, and are very exclusive. The Gov-ernor's Horse Guards never appeared to better advantage today. On the drill and parade grounds today they made a showing that would have delighted Jeb Stuart's heart. The Troup Hussars and the Rich-mond Hussars are in the swim, too.

The practice of giving passes well doubtless pass into history tomorrow. A suggestion has been made that this be done, and the suggestion will probably be adopted. This means that the boys will have to be inside the guard lines before 10 o'clock every night. There was a little bit of a tragedy on the guard line last night. A non-commissioned officer attempted to get gay with a guard about 11 o'clock, and the guard world have none of it. He gave his bayonet a vicious thrust at the officer and landed on his thigh. It was not his fault that the wound was not serious enough to land the giddy officer in the hospital for a couple of weeks.

If there is a popular fellow in camp it is Frank Longley of the Troup Hussars. He calls himself Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. calls himself Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. He does the metempsychosis act with a degree of cleverness that would arouse the envy of Madame Blavatsky. With a seraphic look he points to himself and murmurs: "Dr. Jekyll." Changing the expression on his face and throwing his tragedian looks forward, then changing his expectations of the content of the changing his expectation. appearance he once more smiles and trills: "Mr. Hyde."

The hardest worked man in camp is Adjutant Obear, of the Fifth regiment. He has two or three clerical assistants to help in transacting the vast amount of business that comes before him.

The Fifth regiment is finely officered. Colonel Candler has shown himself a true apidier. He will stay through the ten days of the encampment and will actively discharge his duties. Lieutenant Colonel Woodward is an ideal military man and has won golden opinions for his work here. He won goiden opinions for his work nere. He occupies a tent with Major Wilcoxon facing the parade g.ounds. Major Kendrick is conscientious and thorough. He has shown himself to be one of the most thoroughly posted men on military matters in the Negligee is the style in camp. There was not a couple of white collars in camp today. The officers wear coarse blue shirts or thin gauze ones. Such a thing as pretense or show is subosed. Most of the boys keep their black jeans shirts open at the collar when off duty.

An election for the handsomest man in camp is an event for the near future. Atlanta will furnish several candidates. Every man in camp will vote for himself, except a member of the Thomasville company. He hasn't selected Iris candidate yet.

Ben Abbott is here with the Regiment band. During off hours he makes delicious music with his guitar. Wallace Fancis is the Fifth regiment soloist. Sandy Cunning-ham is introducing "Sweet Marie" in camp. A member of the Hibernian Rifles was reliever from duty last night and was sent home this morning sick. He will not return to the camp.

Solicitor T. A. Atkinson, a brother of the Hon. W. Y. Atkinson, was a visitor at the camp today and was the guest of the Troup Hussars.

Each company entertains its friends at its mess hall. A mess hall is set apart for every company in camp. Suday the Atlanta boys expect theirs to be crowded. The rifle range rang with the sound of shots all day today. The heat was a great drawback, but the boys are understood to have scored handsomely. The Governor's Horse Guards went on the range at 1

Yesterday, in the vicinity of Palos, Deputy Collectors E. A. Hughes and J. L. The Andrew Female College.

Cuthbert, Ga., June 7.-(Special.)-The fourteenth annual commencement of Andrew Female college was brought to a pleasant and successful close yesterday. The exercises throughout were highly creditable to both college and pupils, and enjoyed by probably the largest crowd of visitors for years. In addition to parts of the programme of yesterday already reported, was the awarding of medals in a happy way by Rev. E. Z. F. Golden, of this city. Medals were awarded as follows. General excellence entire college, to Miss Janie Taylor, of Boston, Ga. Of the junior class special mention was made of Misses Bessie Bush, of Colquit, Ga., and Blanche Davidson, of Groves, Ga. Excellence in music, Miss Florence Barry, of Coleman, Ga.; excellence in elocution, Miss Pauline Brooks, of Boston, Ga.; original composition, Miss Annie Twitty, of Cuthbert, Ga.; spe-cial mention made of Miss Annie Stanford, of Cuthbert; excellence and good deportment in the boarding department of the college, Miss Ada Bridges, of Brooksville, Ga. Rev. P. S. Twitty was re-elected to the presidency of the college. Greater zeal and effort will be put forward next term to advance the interests of the college in every way.

The young men of Cuthbert tendered the visiting young men and women a complimentary dance last night at Hotel Randolph. The trains leaving Cuthbert today were filled with pupils and visitors returning to their homes.

A Georgian Took First Honor.

Birmingham, Ala., June 7.—(Special.)—Howard college celebrated her fifty-first anual commencement yesterday morning in the college chapel. Nearly one thousand people were present to witness the exercises of the graduating class and the con fering of diplomas upon nineteen young men. This is the first year of the presidency of Dr. A. W. The fire originated in the kitchen and had made too great headway before being detected to be put out.

Adam Jones, colored, a negro on the west Daniels place about five miles north of Cuthbert, had his house and entire contents destroyed by fire on the same day. Yesterday friends of these distressed par-ties were in Cuthbert asking for assistance. Cuthbert responded very liberally in contributions of supplies, money and clothing.

EIGHT MURDERERS TO HANG. One Attempts to Brain the Sheriff and Is Shot.

Montgomery, Ala.. June 7.—(Special.)—The supreme court today affirmed the decision of the lower court in the cases of the eight Montgomery county murderers. The men, who are all negroes, will be hanged next month. Jim Calloway, Joe Alexander and Wilson Woodley, who conspired together and murdered a cross-roads storekeeper in this county, will be hanged on July 13th. Charley Ezelle, Dan Washington and Porter Davis, the former a wife murderer, the two latter actors in two other atroclous crimes, will be hanged on July 20th. Hilliard Smith. who murdered a negro woodcutter, will explate his crime on the gallows on July

On hearing that the death sentence had been passed on the men, Sheriff Waller undertook as a precaution to search the condemned men's cells for weapons and tools. As he entered Ezelle's cell the murderer drew back a heavy iron bar and was in the act of striking the sheriff on the head with the weapon when a deputy fired, the ball striking the negro's hand which held the bar and causing him to drop it. He made an effort to grasp it with the other hand, but was overpowered.

The condemned men are a desperate lot and will be guarded with the utmost vigilance. On hearing that the death sentence had

But before the association adjourned two of Atlanta's most progressive and popular insurance men were placed in two of the leading and most responsible official positions of the association.

Mr. Tom Egleston, than whom there is no better posted insurance worker in the south, was elected to the presidency of the association, to succeed Colonel Livingston Mims, who declined a re-election, and Mr. Charles C. Fleming was chosen secreta-ry, to succeed Mr. Sam Tupper, who retires from that position to accept the spe-cial agency of the Queen and Crescent Insurance Company, which will move its headquarters from Louisville to Atlanta on the 1st of next month.

Both of the gentlemen who have been elected to the highest and most important official positions in the gift of the association are known throughout the south and throughout the insurance work of the country as competent, faithful and efficient workers in their line, and the association will find at the close of the year just beginning that no wiser or more judicious selections could have been made. For nineteen years these two gentlemen have been among the leading factors in the insurance business of the city, and much of the good work done was that of Mr Eglegood work done was that of Mr Egleston. Always pleasant, happy and in a good humor, he made friends of all with whom he came in contact. Mr. Charles C. Fleming, the new secretary of the association who succeeds Mr. Tupper, is well known in Atlanta and is one of the most popular of the insurance men of the south. He came to Atlanta about four years ago as the secretary of the Southeastern Tariff Association, but after a year or so resigned that position to accept the special agency of the German America in this city. This position he held with credit to himself making many friends in his work until a short time ago, when the headquarters of the Lancashire Insurance Company was moved to Atlanta when he servered his connection with the German America to take the special agency of the

Mr. Tupper has been given the management of the northern department of the Queen Insurance Company. The headquarters of this department, covering twelve states, has heretofore been in Louisville, states, has heretofore been in Louisville, Ky., under the management of Mr. Morris. The change from Louisville to Atlanta was determined upon because of the superior geographical position of this city. Apartments have been secured in the Equitable building in which the headquarters will be established on the 1st of July.

It is a high compliment to Mr. Tupper that he should have been selected for so important an office. The establishment of headquarters here means an important addition both to the population and the busi-

BRECKINRIDGE'S BIG FIGHT. Probability That Shooting Will Begin Before Long.

Washington, June 7.—A well-known resident of this city who has just returned from the seventh Kentucky district, says that there will be plenty of shooting before the Breckinridge campaign is over, and that it is going to commence soon. Breckinridge has taken the scriptural ground. He says, with the trie without she among you, let him "He that is without sin among you, let him cast the first stone," and calmly notifies those who are opposing him that their private lives and records are likely to be held up to public scrutiny and criticism as his own is, if they persist in declaring that he is not fit to represent them in congress. His friends are just as active as his enemies, and he has very many of them. His hold upon the people is marvelous and there are hundreds of men in the district who, regardless of his reputation, will stand up and fight for him to the last drop of blood. Most or them are ex-confederates who fought with him in the war, and include the local leaders of the organizations he has built up in the district. he has built up in the district.

His opponents, on the other hand, are the aristocracy of the blue grass region, who feel that it is a disgrace to have such a man represent them in congress. Their opposition is all the more pitter because he belongs to their own class. All of the old families in that part of Kentucky seem to be related by blood or connected by mar-riage, and the two former wives of Breckinridge belonged to the most famous and exclusive class. The first was a grand-daughter of Henry Clay and the second a granddaughter of General Desha, who served in the Indian wars after the revolution with Mad Anthony Wayne, and was afterward governor of Kentucky and Henry Clay's predecessor in the United States senate. The descendants of Clay and Desha are particularly bitter against Breckin-

There have been many scandals in the Ashland district, and there is scarcely a family without a black sheep in its flock or a closely hidden skeleton in its closet. Many of the men have been fast and the women frivolous in their youth and episodes have occurred that these generous people have forgiven and forgotten. The friends of Breckinridge have been raking over the reputations of the aristocracy and digging out the skeletons in large numbers. Thus far there have been only whispers and insinuations and mysterious warnings of dis-closures to come, intended as intimations that persons who live in glass houses should not throw stones, even at so hideous a spectacle as Brenckinridge had made of almself. It will not be long before the ef fect of this resurrection is felt, and then the shooting will commence. Already notice has been served upon some of the scandal mongers that certain incidents in the histories of some of the towns will be revived at their peril. These offenders re-ply that Breckinridge's friends intend to fight with the same weapons that are used against him. The gentleman who brings this news says that Breckinridge will be renominated without a doubt, as he has the organizations and will select the judges at the primary elections that will be held on September 15th. The republicans have called their convention for September 25th, and if the colonel succeeds his opponent will be Major Henry Clay McDowell, the famous horse breeder, the owner of Dictator and other fine stock, who lives in the old house of Henry Clay, who was his great uncle Major McDowell was a union man during the war and has usually voted the repub-lican ticket, although he has never taken any active part in politics. He is the richest man in the district and the most popular, and will be supported by all of the old aristocracy regardless of party lines. He is not seeking the nomination, but has consented to make the fight if Breckinridge captures the democratic primaries.

VERY FAST LIVING.

Busy People Who Are Killing Themselves by Inches.

DR. EDSON'S WARNING.

It Is Slow Suicide-He Explains 1. hy So Many People Break Down in the Prime of Life Through Fast Living. There Is Only One Way to Escape the Consequences.

Thousands of people are guilty of fast living, but do not know it. They are short-ening their lives and laying up a train of ills for the future without being aware of the evils they are bringing upon themselves. They are in the midst of grave dangers, scious and unwarned.

This may seem incredible, but it is, nevertheless, a fact. It is a strong assertion, but it is supported by no less an authority than Dr. Cyrus Edson, of the New York board of health, and one of the leading physicians of America.

In a recent newspaper article, which has created a widespread sensation, Dr. Edson ounds a timely note of warning when he says:

"Few understand the high pressure of life in New York city. They do not even realize that they themselves are living too fast; that they are daily treating themselves to abnormal excesses in the way of intellectual effort and intellectual pleasures which damage and destroy mind and body. If the average New Yorker is asked why he never sleeps until sheer exhaustion makes it a necessity, why he drinks stimulants in the morning to drive away the pains in his head and to beget an ap-petite for breakfast, why he bolts down his luncheon as if he were filling his traveling bag in a hurry to catch a train, why he drinks stimulants again at night to drive away nervousness and recurring thoughts of his day's work, which pass before his

Honest and Manly Politics. "A political lie is the worst of all lies," said the late Senator Benjamin H Hill in one of his great speeches, and the orator proved the truth of his proposition by outlining the evils and alamities affecting whole nations that might result from a political falsehood.

At the present time, when our party wreckers in congress are smashing plank after plank of the democratic platform, and boasting that they are not bound by conventions and platforms, we must look to the masses to revive and perpetuate the spirit, the principles and the methods of genuine democracy. The average democrat is not yet ready to agree with some of the leaders of the party that a platform is only a sham, an array of glittering generalities designed to catch votes, and to be repudiated whenever it suits the pleasure of the statesmen who were elected upon it. with the understanding that they would carry out its pledges.

The democratic masses are hones and patriotic. The reforms demanded by them are incorporated in the Chicago platform and they have a right to demand that these pledges be redeemed.

If the representatives of the party are free to follow their individual inclinations, regardless of the instructions laid down for their guidance by a national convention in its platform, then it is useless to hold conventions and make platforms, and unnecessary to have any sort of organization.

We believe that the great majority of democrats hold these views, and we feel confident that they will respond to our appeal to take their stand on the Chicago platform with the determination to see its pledges redeemed. The only honest and manly course is to stand by the platform. We cannot afford to promise financial relief and a revenue word.

The political salvation of the country and the success of democracy rest with the masses of the party. They have it in their power to bring their obstreperous leaders to their senses and they should lose no time in making themselves heard and felt. Office holders come and go and taste a little brief authority, but the people are the real sovereigns and they can have their way if they will. The democratic masses will not be misled by the action of a few men who get together in little town meetings and pass resolutions derogatory to The Constitution for doing its duty in defending party principles. They are not worth the paper they are written on as far as their value reaches in deceiving the people. They do not lessen a whit our earnestness in behalf of the redemption of every pledge of the party. Sixty or seventy men out of a population of several thousand fall as far short of voicing the sentiments of the people as the three tailors of Tooley street did when they began a preamble with the words, "We, the people of England."

The privates in the great army of democracy can control this business. All that they have to do is to make it known that they stand by their platform and are loyal to the principles of

But it will do no good for the people to remain loyal to their platform and principles unless they elect men to represent them who share their views. If we want to redeem the pledges made at Chicago we must put men in office who can be trusted to do the work. We must send our best men to the front in politics-"men with strong minds, great hearts, true faith and ready hands, men whom the lust of office does not kill, men whom the spoils of office cannot buy." God send us such men! They are needed now, and if we cannot find them the land will be filled with demagogues whose false promises will seduce the discontented and inflame the lawless element. Stand by your principles, redeem your pledges! We must make this the rallying cry of the party. Millions of democratic voters still remain loyal to their platform, and it is not in the power of a few to repudiate it.

Put none but democrats on guard this

A Sad Story.

The other day a respectable and welldressed Virginian fell in the Smithsonian grounds at Washington from sheer exhaustion caused by hunger and trouble.

At the hospital the authorities found upon investigating the letters in his pocket that he was a man of good standing from Basic City, who had come to Washington to get a government position. A letter from his wife revealed the fact that she and her children were on the verge of starvation.

The facts of the case were printed in the Washington papers, and in a few hours a hundred dollars was raised, and the wants of the sufferer and his family were supplied. In an editorial on the subject The Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette says:

A man with nothing to eat in a large city grossly misjudges as to what would be manly when he decides to starve rather than make his case known. In this particuar instance the mind may have been not n its normal condition. He may have ce, and, disappointed in not of ing it, was overthrown in his mind. An ordinary, manly man might feel humiliated in asking for help, but there would have been no dishonor in such an act. In any of our large cities it would have been no ffense to his own dignity to apply to individuals; a man in his circumstances might with propriety have gone to citizens and made known his circumstances in a manly way, and received account. and received succor. Were he on a broad stream and by accident have lost an oar, it would have been his first impulse to make an outcry for help. And if it were possible he would receive it. In our cities here are provisions on all hands for help ing stranded persons. Society is organized on this plan. In this instance tune was that the man himself misjudged as to his own duty and what was de-manded of him. He was not too proud to die of starvation, of which there was no need; he needed the courage to face the circumstances into which he had drifted.

This is undoubtedly the right view, and yet if the Virginian had followed this advice he might have been arrested for begging or vagrancy and sent to jail. Many an honest poor man out of work has been subjected to just such treatment

The story teaches at least two lessons. One is that even in our large cities there are many good people who are quick to respond when they see that the unfortunate really need help. The other esson is that almost anything is better than the uncertainty of seeking a government position, when the applicant is a poor man with a family. The Virginian was trying to better his condition, but if he had remained at Basic City where he was known he would have saved himself and family much trouble and suffering.

Truck Gardening.

The Memphis Commercial thinks that truck gardening in the south is still in its infancy, and that it can be made very profitable in the vicinity of every southern city. When the supply exceeds the local demand the great cities of the north and west stand ready to take it at good prices. The Commercial says:

To calculate what profits have actually been made by truck farming in various parts of the world would seem like exag-geration, but the facts transcend fancy. As a new bit of collateral information on this subject it. ect, it may be mentioned that, a few years ago, the famous English novelist George Meredith, found that his literary profits were not sufficient for his needs. He planted a few acres near London in gar-den truck, and has been independent enough ever since to devote his whole time to letters. John G. Saxe did the same thing in Texas with a like result.

The establishment of canning factories in the south will give the truck farmers and fruit growers a chance to save their perishable products and sell them in all the markets of the world. The canning industry is destined to turn the fruit and vegetables of the south into gold.

A Deserved Compliment.

That was a graceful compliment paid to Mr. T. B. Neal when the Georgia Bankers' Association elected him to the presidency.

Atlanta does not possess a more rep resentative citizen than Mr. Neal. Born and reared amid the surroundings out of which this city grew, his mature manhood has been given to her progress. and good name. In every movement having the promotion of either city or people in view, Mr. Neal has been a prominent figure. Quiet and unassuming, yet self-reliant and bold when the moment for action came, he has been a typical citizen in every sense of the word.

Atlanta rejoices over the honor bestowed upon this courtly gentleman and congratulates him upon this notable recognition of his worth.

Cotton and the Gold Standard.

A Georgia newspaper that has embraced the wild financial theories of the eastern goldbugs, says that it is no hardship on the farmers that the price of cotton has fallen from 20 cents a pound in 1873 to 7 cents a pound in 1894 because the cost of production has fallen less than half.

The statement is utterly ridiculous, of course, but we should be glad to see it reduced to a practical illustration, In what way has the cost of production been reduced? The improved methods of farming have somewhat lessened the cost of production it is true, but there has been no labor-saving machinery introduced in the cultivation of cotton since 1873 that has any appreciable effect on the cost. The methods of intensive farming that have been slowly introduced lessen the cost in one direction, but increase it, in another. The labor that was formerly employed in producing a bale and a half of cotton on four acres, is now employed in producing three bales on four acres. But the saving in labor is expended in purchasing fertilizers or in preparing them at home. By an additional expenditure of labor and forethought, the farmer now gets $90 for three bales where he formerly got $150 for a bale and a half. If we had a sound financial system and a stable currency, with the mints opened to the free coinage of both gold and silver, his cotton would be worth 12 cents a pound, and his three bales would be worth $180. That is the tax

the single gold standard places on the labor of the cotton farmer, and it would be terrific in its results but for the fact that the whole country has to bear the largest part of the burden. The farmer has resources of his own that no other calling can boast of. He alone of all citizens, is really and truly independ-

The collapse in the price of cotton and wheat, due to the effect of financial legislation which places our currency system on the British gold standard, has struck the nation heavier than it has the farmers. The ability of the country to buy abroad has been cut down more than one-half-the ability to pay our debts abroad has been cut down more than one-half, while the value of the debt remains the same.

All this, however, is but a small part of the story of the effects of the single gold standard on the energies and prospects of a progressive people.

It is reported that somebody in the town of Wolverhampton, England, has in-vented an entirely new sport, which has proved excessively popular among the colliers of the "black country." The amusement consists in a fight between a man and a rat. The rat, which is the largest and strongest to be had, is fastened to a peg set in the middle of a large table by a cord long enough to give him the run of the whole table. The man has his hands tied behind him and has to fight the ra with his teeth. According to the local ac-count of a recent match, the rat at first tried to escape from his antagonist, but find-ing this impossible, turned on him and fought with furious desperation, succeedin in inflicting many severe wounds on his human enemy before the latter succeeded in killing him. Some time ago the English papers had an account of a fight something similar between a man and a dog. That story was afterward declared a fake, but a London correspondent vouches the truth of this man-rat conflict.

It is said that recent experiments made with the new rifles in Germany make it sonably apparent that the next war will simply one of extermination. A promient French writer in a recent article says that the battlefield would at the termina tion of the engagement be covered with two or three hundred thousand corpses, all crushed and broken, and would be nothing but a vast charnel house. No one would be left to bury the dead, and pestilence would in its turn sweep away the country people. Pointing the moral, he adds that the man-emperor, king or president of a republic-who, under these conditions, would expose the human race to such a fate expose the numan race to such a fate would be the greatest criminal that the world had ever seen. It is tolerably plain that the horrors and butchery which a war would entail are becoming more and more recognized, and that the terrible vista thus opened out is exercising a sobering effect on those who were formerly wont to dis cuss eventualities with a light heart

The Cincinnati Times-Star announces that a chemist of that city succeeded in making fluid which has all the properties of ordinary cow's milk, and is equal to the best for all purposes. It is a combination water, solids and fats, and is absolutely the same as, and indistinguishable from, pure milk, and has the advantage of being absoutely free from the diseases and impuritie that are often found in milk. This chem leal milk will raise a cream, will sour, turn to curd and water, and butter and cheese can be made from it the same as from cow milk. At present the cost of production is more than $1 a gallon, but the chemist be-lieves with a few more experiments he can reduce the price to 10 or 15 cents a gallon, and by making it in wholesale quantities This story was probably invented for the purpose of entertaining the marines.

GEORGIA PRESS PERSONALS.

The following tribute to Colonel John O. Waddell from the pen of Judge E. F. Ed-wards appears in The Covington Enterprise: "I have known him for thirty years, have seen him tested upon more than a dozen battlefields; I was standing by his side when he fell at Crampton's Gap, shot through the mouth, crushing both of his jaw bones. He has never from that day o this been able to chew any substantia ood. No truer or braver soldier ever wen to the front in defense of southern rights than John O. Waddell. His name was sent home after this battle as one of the killed. A friend in Athens, Ga., wrote his obituary, which was published in The Athens Banner. He came home a few months later from a northern prison, and read it, and, thanks to a kind Providence, lives today, and after the 2d day of August will be able to read the political obituary of his distin guished opponent. He is now, and has been for several years, the honored president of the State Agricultural Society. A practical farmer, and a man, in my judgment, emi-nently fitted and qualified to fill the nigh office he seeks."

The Sugar Trust's Triumph.

From The New York Herald.

By its vote on the sugar schedule yester day the senate virtually tenders a present of twenty, or perhaps thirty, million dollars to the sugar trust. While it is proposed that the tariff on other commodities shall go into effect at the beginning of the fiscal year, July 1st the new duty on sugar is not operative until January 1, 1895, a period of six months which is enough to enable the trust to bring in duty free all the raw material it will need for perhaps a year's supply in its re-

The immense capital of the trust will ren der such an accumulation of raw sugars perfectly feasible, whereas its competitors— and they are neither numerous or strong— will be unable to take a profitable advan-tage of the delay. From our Washington advices of this morning it would seem that the democrats were influenced in support-ing this postponement of the sugar tariff by political considerations.

Stand By the Platform.

From The Nashville American.

It is the duty, however, of all true democrats to stand by their colors whatever may come. The penalty for a betrayal of party pledges should be visited upon the members of congress who are guilty thereof and not upon the party. The democratic masses are true to the principles of the party and unfaithful stewardship wide enough in its extent to defeat one of the greatest declarations of principles made by the party should serve to intensify their devotion to sound democratic doctrine and lead them to defy their false statesmen.

State Banks.

Editor Constitution—It seems that congress, by a large majority, is opposed to the repeal of the tax on state banks, which would, in the judgment of our people, greatly relieve the present stringency I very respectfully suggest that as it is generally conceded that said tax is unconstitutional, illegal and void, that our leg stitutional, ilegal and void, that our legislature pass a law authorizing the organization of one or more state banks, with proper safeguards and limitations, with a provision that the state back the movement up, and, if necessary, have the question fully tested by the courts, pledging hereif to pay the tax, if such tax should be sustained, thus insuring the issue of the sustained, thus insuring the issue of th money the people so much need. Ought not the state to be willing to take this small risk for the benefit of the people?

Editor Constitution.—You merit the thanks of every honest man, of every Christian man and of every true American for your editorial in your issue of the 23d ultimo, main and of every true American for your editorial in your issue of the 23d ultimo, headed "Stirring Up Strife." The society to which you refer, the A. P. This coun-try is large enough to hold all religious creeds and its people patriotic enough to frown down and resent any attempt at persecution on account of religion. Yours, P. J. N. C.

AN EXTRAORDINARY CRIME. At His Own Request an Old Man Is Killed by a Boy of Sixteen.

From The New York Herald.

Paris, May 25.—The assize court of Aix-les-Bains has just had before it one of the les-Bains has just had before it one of the most extraordinary cases which can be found in the annals of crime. The accused was a young boy of sixteen years of age, named Francois Berthollier, who was charged with the murder of an old man named Blanchard. Berthollier did not deny the crime, but made the curious defense that he had killed his victim not only with the latter's consent, but in response to his pressing request. The following extract from his examination by the president of the court gives his version of the crime:

Tired of Life. Prisoner—On the day of the arrival of the Russians Blanchard and I went to Toulon. On the way he told me how miserable he was and how much he desired to end his life. For several hours he tried to persuade me to deliver him from his miseries President-Did you not ask him why he did not commit suicide?

Prisoner—He said that he had not the necessary courage and that he had religious scruples. Two days later he came to my room and awakened me, saying: "Francois, I count on you for today; I want to get it over before the evening." I was very much astonished. He added: "I will sign a bill for you for 1,800f., which you will get from notary at Carpentias, esident—So this sum of 1,800f. caused you to consent? Took a Bill from His Victim. Prisoner—I went down stairs and bought a bill stamp for sixty centimes and drew out the bill, which he signed. Then we went to Joliette to take the tramway. While waiting for it we went into a cafe, where Blanchard made me drink several glasses of peppermint. Then he gave me sixty centimes to buy a knife in a shop. When we were on the tramway Blanchard said to me: "Smoke as much as you can; it will stupify you." At Estaque we again it will stupify you." At Estaque we again went into a cafe, where he made me drink four or five absinthes. Then we continu our route for some time, when sudder Blanchard stopped, saying: "This pla our route for some time, when suddenly Blanchard stopped, saying: "This place vill do." We then went under the bridge which is there. Blanchard undressed and bandaged his eyes with a handkerchief.

President—Blanchard lay down him on the stones there?

Prisoner-Yes, monsieur. • Cut the Jugular Veln.

President-You certainly followed his counsels well. Your hand struck with a dexterity that a professional assassin might epvy. Did Blanchard die at once? Prisoner-Yes, he raised himself up slightly and gave a sigh; that was all. I had some blood on my hands, so I went and washed them in the sea, which is about 200 yards away. President—Then you returned to Estaque

Prisoner—Yes. I stopped at a shooting gallery, where I fired some shots to divert myself. President-And did you not feel any remorse—any terror?

Prisoner—Yes, a little.
The jury decided that the prisoner had acted without discernment and acquitted him. The court, however, ordered him to be kept in a reformatory until the age of

THE DECLINE OF ORATORY. Reading Habits and Critical Frame of Mind a Great Cause.

From The New York Post.
One reason for the decline of oratory, and oably the most powerful of all, is the growth of the reading habit and the criti-cal frame of mind which reading begets. A man reads generally alone, and can, if he pleases, pause and weigh what he reads. At all events he remains perfectly cold in the presence of the type, and gets used to a great deal in newspaper articles of what would a generation ago have passed as eloquence if delivered in court or on the stump. Then it must be confessed that oratory does not bear very well the criticism of the calm reasoning mind. Most of it consists of what used to be called "claptrap"—that is, points which few men would venture to present to their neighbors round a table, but which is somehow, when ad-dressed to an audience in a loud voice, with gesticulation, more or less exciting or amus

The ease with which an assembly laughs at the poorest and stalest joke does much to explain oratorical success. In a crowd the critical faculty is as it were suspended, but newspaper and other reading is fos-tering it and enabling it to resist the crowd The tricks of orators, which fifty years ago, no one noticed or consider-ed legitimate features of the art, are now objects of general merriment or contempt. These things are true, not only of this country, but all countries. The democratic age, contrary to general expectation, is proving unpropitious to oratory. It is com-pelling everybody who talks in public to "talk business," because what he says will, by most people, be seen in print only and have to bear fireside examination.

The Increase of Suicide. From The Cincinnati Commercial Gazette. In our opinion the rapid increase of suicide must be due not merely to the dwindling religious faith of the day-in both the cases we speak of there seems to have been a keen feeling that God's forgiveness was needed for the suicide, so that it was ceitainly not primarily due to any skepticist as to the existence of a divine government -but to that horror of trouble and grief which indicates a dwindling power of en-durance and an almost extinct sense of hope. No doubt this dwindling power of endurance, this extinguishing of hope, under-mine also the sources of faith. Faith with-cut hope is still less conceivable. We have little doubt that there are a much larger number of persons who are born into the world without any elasticity of nerve nowaworld without any elasticity of nerve nowadays than there were in less exacting times. In spite of the great extension of the average age of life, there is a falling off, we believe, in that eager wish for experience, that instinct for living even under a heavy load of difficulties, which there used to be in the old times before all the exhausting interests of the present day. Where children in the old days ran away from unhappy homes, they often commit suicide now. Bereavement, instead of being regarded as a new burden to be borne, and to be borne patiently, however overpowering it may seem, is regarded as a calamity to be evaded, and to be evaded even at the voluntary sacrifice of a great deal of real happiness. sacrifice of a great deal of real happing The Three Spirits of Man.

There are but few beliefs that are more peculiar than that of the Mohammedans respecting the three several spirits which they believe inhabit the bodies of all men. The first is the animal spirit, which has its seat in the brain, performing, through the nerves all the actions of sense and motion. The second is the vital spirit, which has its seat in the heart, and which has control of the motion, blood and animal heat. The third is the natural spirit, which is seated in the liver, and upon which depends the temper and general frame of the mind.

The denial of Mr. Oates, which came from New York yesterday, was read with a good deal of surprise by those people who talked with the next governor of Ala. The fact of the matter is that Mr. Oates in telling of real or imaginary con tions with Mr. Clevelvand in which the financial question was discussed, did use the expression as coming from Mr. Cleve-land which the publication in New York quotes him as using. The friends of Judge Hamilton McWhor. ter are watching with a great deal of in-terest the congressional situation in the eighth district. The judge has not yet announced his candidacy for congress, but it is practically certain that he will do so in the very near future—perhaps in a few days. The action of the friends of Judge Lawson in Jasper county in formally en-dorsing his candidacy for re-election, has created a good deal of indignation among some of Judge McWhorter's friends who say that Judge Lawson has been writing to Judge McWhorter asking him to do nothing as yet. They claim that this is really a breach of faith on the part of really a breach of faith on the parties Judge Lawson's friends. A gentleman who came from a visit to several of the counties in that district where he has been the past week said: "I have never seen a stronger ground swell than there seems to be right now in Judge McWhorseems to be right not all the counties in ter's favor. An interesting bit of political gossip comes from Floyd county. It is to the effect that Judge Walter T. Amother interesting political rumor is that which suggests the possible candidaes of Hon. Charley Brand, of Gwinnett coun ty, for the presidency of the senate. It is Gwinnett's time to name the senator from that district, and Charley Brand will undoubtedly be the man. He has not announced his cand'dacy for the presidency. but it is suggested by friends, both at his home and in other parts of the state, that he would make an excellent president officer. Hon. Watt Harris, of Bartow cour ty, is also spoken of in connection this position, and would undoubtedly make a strong race. Hon. W. H. Venable has been urged by friends in all parts of the state to become a candidate for the presi-dency of the senate, but has not as yet announced his candidacy or done anything looking to a candidacy. When asked about it he replies that he has had no time as yet to consider the question. He is very strong, however, and would make a splendid race. All three are strong, good men and any

Never was there a jollier set of fellows in convention assembled in this city than the Georgia bankers proved to be and their meeting here has been a source of pleasure all around.

President Neal. The new president of the Georgia Bankers' Association, Thomas B. Neal, is one of the leading financiers of this region of the south. He has for a number of years been engaged in the banking business as presi dent of the Neal Loan and Banking Com pany.

Mr. Neal inherited his talent for running a bank. He is a born financier and knows all about the intricate ways of pulling banks out of hard times and panics to success. His course as president of the Neal Loan and Banking Company has been the build-ing up of one of the finest banking institu-tions in this section of country. His repu-tation among bankers is such as has won for him golden opinions in the fraternity and he has always been regarded as one of the most popular members of the associa-tion. His unanimous election to the office of president of the association and the applause that greeted his nomination all go to show how he has established himself in the good opinion and high esteem of his fellow bankers in this state.

For the past six or eight months Mr. Neal has been president of of the Atlanta Clearing House Association and as such has handled the fortistic the and as such has handled the affairs of the Atlanta banking institutions in a most successful manner.

Georgia Bankers' Association has reason to congratulate itself upon the selection of a man so well fitted for the distinguished position to which Mr. Neal has peen chosen. Indeed, all of the officers on the full ticket, many of whom were re-elected from the last term, are among the bankers who hold the front rank in the south Atlantic states. They are all conspicuous bankers.

The Transfer of Stock. Quite a weighty and important question was sprung on the convention yesterday when Mr. E. W. Lane, cashier of the Valdosta bank, offered a resolution calling for a change of laws with respect to the man-ner in which a stockholder may transfer stock.

This question interests many citizens of both town and country-all, in fact, who hold bank shares.

Following is Mr. Lane's resolution, which was unanmously adopted:

"Whereas, it is apparent that under the present law of this state regulating the transfer and assignment of snares in oanks and in other corporations in this state, whereby stockhouters in said corporation are required to give public notice of the sale of shares therein;

"Resolved further, That the senators and representatives in the Georgia legislature be and they are hereby requested and urged to lend their earnest efforts to the accomplishment of the repeal of said law.
"Resolved further, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to each of the senators and representatives, expressing the views resolutions be sent to each or the send of and representatives, expressing the views and opinions of this association." The Law Referred To. The law the bankers raise such a fuss

The law the bankers raise such a fuss about is as follows:

"Code, section 1496. Stockholders' liability. An act to amend 1496 of the code of Georgia, so as to change the length of time, which notice shall be published by any stockholder upon sale of his stock in any bank or corporation; to relieve such stockholder from individual liability, and to prescribe the newspapers in which notice is to be given.

"Section 1. The general assembly of the state of Georgia do enact that section 1496 of the code of Georgia, which reads as follows: When a stockholder in any bank or other corporation is individually liable under the charter and shall transfer his stock, he shall be exempt from such liability unless he receives written notice from a creditor within six months of such transfer of his intention to hold him liable; provided, he shall give notice once a month for six months of such transfer immediately thereafter in two papers in or nearest the place where such institution shall keep its principal office,' be, and the same is hereby amended by striking out said proviso and inserting in lieu thereof the following: 'Provided, he shall, within ten days thereafter cause notice of such transfer to be published once a week for four weeks in the newspaper which publishes the sheriff's sales of the county in which such corporation shall keep its principal office,' so that the same when amended shall read as follows: 'When a stockholder in any bank or other corporation is individually liable under the charter and shall transfer his stock, he shall be exempt from such liability unless he receives written notice from a creditor within six months after such transfer of his intention to hold him liable; provided, he shall within ten days thereafter cause notice of such transfer to be published once a week for four weeks in the newspaper which publishes the sheriff's sales of the county in which such corporation shall keep its principal office.'

"Sec. 2. Be it further enacted, that all laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act be, and the same are hereby repealed." To Work for Reform.

There was quite a stir of excitement among the bankers when it came to the discussion of this perplexing question. They all seemed to look upon it as a black beast on the law books of the state of Georgia, and determined with much decision that they shall have a committee appointed to look up all such laws as this and see what can be done with the next legislature toward repealing or reforming them.

"What we want to do," said Colonel Witham, the irrepressible president of half a dozen banks in the state, "is to get a better system of banking laws in this state. I hold in my hand an old law that has been on the books ever since 1838, and was fished up the other day to the detriment of a bank to the extent of several thousand dollars. It is wrong law-behind the times. It ought not to be there. We must see if we can't get it off."

Consequent upon such speeches as thisand there were many of them-a committee was instructed to engage a competent lawyer and have a pamphlet collected showing all the laws in the state code pertaining to banks and the management of banking business. This same committee will take such steps towards securing fairer legislation as may turn up to be wise in their

Mr. Smith and the Bankers.

The resolution endorsing the administration of President Cleveland and congratu-lating him upon his appointment of Secretary Hoke Smith to the department of the interior, which was published in The Constitution yesterday in full, was reported by the committee on resolutions with the recommendation that the following naragraph be stricken from the resolutions: "Resolved, That in the appointment to a cabinet position of the Hon, Hoke Smith, one of Georgia's illustrious citizens, the president has conferred an honor upon our state which we appreciate highly."

tions were adopted by the convention. As to Georgia Gold Mines.

With respect to the resolution introduced Captain Bob Llowry, at the previous day's session, looking to the encourage-ment of Georgia gold mines, the members of the convention met the issue with much enthusiasm, and passed the resolution, which was as follows:

which was as follows:

"Be it resolved by the Georgia Bankers' Association, now being held in Atlanta, That we ask congress and the senate of the United States to establish a mint for the coinage of gold in Georgia at Atlanta at an early datee. We are satisfied it wfil greatly encourage mining by modern methods, and we believe that the hills and valleys of north Georgia abound in this precious metal and in paying quantities to mint. The establishment of a mint will greatly encourage this industry that will add so much to the wealth of our whole country.

and so much to the weath of the secre-country.

"Be it further resolved. That the secre-tary of this association be requested to send copies of this resolution to the president of the United States and his cabinet and the members of congress and senators from

The resolution by Mr. Burdell, of Savan-nah, providing for memorializing the Georgla legislature to pass a law doing away with the three days' grace, was reported unfavorably, but not because it was the sense of the convention that three days of grace should be allowed. The members voted overwhelmingly the day before that it was their opinion that the old custom should be abolished, but when it came to putting the matter before the Georgia legislature the members thought best to keep it out of the halls of state legislation. They all said that the average Georgia legislator thing, although it was of no advantage to the borrower to have the three days' grace. They decided to let it drop.

As to the Brawley Bill. A slightly sensational development arose in the morning session, when the question of passing some sentence on the action of congress in refusing to pass the Brawley bill came up for discussion.

pend, and untold financial trouble would have been entailed which would take years to efface, but for our timely action in issuing clearing house certificates to tide over the temporary financial trouble, all of which have long ago been redeemed."

Mr. J. J. C. McMahan, of Athens, took the floor and made a speech in favor of such a sentiment. "But," said he, "let's take it to congress on a higher plane than a petition. Let's take the question there in the shape of a test case if at all. We think there was nothing any more in violation of the laws in our issuing clearing house certificates than the banks of New York. Let's refer the matter to our executive committee and if they see fit to make a test case let us take that course.'

The Lowry resolution was adopted and the suggestion of Mr. McMahan was sent with it

Demands Harmony Between the State and Demands Harmony Between the State and National Banks."

Speaking of the relations between the two orders of banks, the author said:

"There can be no real grounds for either to ctaim the advantage over the otherboth have been equany necessary. I say have been advisedly, for it yet remains to be seen if they are to continue.

"If an object lesson is necessary to demonstrate the power for good in the harmonious working of the two institutions, we have only to recall the nardships of the year just past, remembering that but for this narmony what we really suffered was a mere index to the pandemonium we would have experienced without it. Before dismissing the unpleasant memory of that trying time I wish to emphasize as forcibly as possible the fact that the recurrence is a future possibility, nay, an absolute certainty, unless the two classes of banks with a singleness of purpose, working together, shall shape the financial system of the country in some settled, definite direction.

"The time has fully come for this ques-solute certainty, unless the two classes of banks with a singleness of purpose, working together, shall shape the financial system of the country in some settled, definite direction.

"The time has fully come for this question to be settled; it is a reproach on the country that it has remained so long unsettled. We must have a simple, broad, wise system of banking and currency. Some may claim this to be the duty of legislators ultimately, but now it rests with the students of political economy and our financiers to step forward and firmly and wisely lead us out of the meshes of the labyrinth in which we find ourselves at present. Then our legislators, being enlightened, will put into execution the system thus mapped out. Our country will, freeing herself from the silly timidity now entertained towards other nations, stand forth in her regal majesty as the true light and guide of the world in this matter, as she has, and successfully maintained the position as light of the world in the matter of personal liberty. The study of the question of harmony between the two classes of banks is so closely allied to that of a circulating medium that it is quite impossible to take up the one without going into the other. The cause is obvious, as this question of a circulating medium is the only real one upon which a serious conflict can arise. It will be entirely superfluous for me to touch upon that subject on this occasion, with the discussions we have already enjoyed and are yet to hear. It is merely my part to offer for our serious consideration the need of harmony, that the wisest, broadest and most enduring results may be secured; so that, in the event of the establishment of a commission on banking and currency, it may be formed of men who, in harmony, stand for the best interests of the entire country, irrespective of local prejudices and petty political affiliations.

"It is absolutely indispensable, in trying to correct the defects inherent in our currency, to protect and respect, as far as possible, existing inte done by halves, we may well expect the horror of that event to be eclipsed by the new.

"The commonwealers' movement is only the first mutterings. All great events have their inciplencies, as instance the knitting women' of the French. Why do we not heed the lesson in time and take the other broad course stretched out before us with its possibilities of good and development that transcend description, by which glorious results can be achieved and a reign of prosperity and happiness accomplshed that now seems beyond the dreamer's vision?

"We have a country whose resources are so wonderfully diversified and exhaustless that we cannot half appreciate it all. We have only had the first glimpse of the rosy dawn of prosperity and development. In your hands more than any other rests the power for good or evil; and the choice of the two courses will determine the future of the country.

"The financial panies have taken place with such exact regularity and certainty that we have positively settled ourselves in the belief that they are a part of the great economical plan, and are inevitable. "The establishment of a commission on banking and currency I suggest to you as the most practical solution of this all important and complicated question."

The Banquet.

The Banquet.

The banquet of the bankers at the Kim-The banquet of the bankers at the Kimball last night was one of rare splendor. The entire arrangement was superb throughout. The big dining room was beautifully decorated with handsome ferns, palms and mosses, and instead of a long, conventional table the dining room was laid out with the regular dining tables, beautifully adorned with flowers, ferns and palms. In the rear, back of the numerous flower-covered tables, the orches-tra kept the evening bright and spirited. The menu card was unique and certainly apropos, being in the shape of a coupon bond, maturing June 1, 1894, a portion of the menu appearing upon each of the coupons, which were all dated to mature June 7th, between the hours of 9 o'clock and 12 o'clock, except the last one, which gave no hour, and was good for conveyance to the elevator and attendance by physician.

They were taken in carriages out to Grant park and shown the beatuties of the place, enjoying the cool drive. They spent some time viewing the curios of the famous Gress zoo.

From there many of the bankers were taken out to the waterworks and shown the recent display of Atlanta enterprise and progress to be seen there.

He said this was true in everything, just as certain as contraction followed expansion and booms led to "busts." He said the government had been on a boom and that now was the day of settlement and it was now on with a vengeance. His speech was a splendid effort throughout.

in a breezy episode on Luckie street yesterday.

Mr. A. G. Stewart, the salesman, is from Birmingham, Several months ago he came to Atlanta seeking work and was employed by Mr. B. F. Smith, at 34 Alabama street. Mr. Smith deals exclusively in the safe business and Stewart was put on the road in the interest of his business. Tuesday he returned from a trip through Georgia. Yesterday morning he entered the store and demanded a settlement of Mr. Smith.

Seeing his condition, the safe dealer told Stewart to call again in the afternoon and he would arrange things. But Stewart protested and his employer quickly arrived at a result in his calculations which placed Stewart in his debt about $25. The result was not satisfactory to the salesman and he used remarks imprudent and emphatic. It was about dinner time and Mr. Smith took the next car home, hoping to evade his clerk. In the meantime he had purchased a ticket to Birmingham, which he intended to give Stewart, enabling him to return home.

After dinner Mr. Smith was quietly enjoying a fragrant cigar and talking to the members of his family, seated on the spacious veranda, when Stewart lifted the gate latch and walked in. It was apparent to Mr. Smith that his condition had not improved since morning, but he invited him in and offered a chair. Stewart wore an air of defiance and none of the courtesies of his employer seemed to satisfy him. The ticket scene was a tragic climax to his day's doings.

He was informed that his services were no longer desired, and, concluding, Mr. Smith gave him the Birmingham ticket. As he handed it out Stewart drew his pistol and fired, the ball making a clear hole in the ticket, which Mr. Smith held.

Whether it was his clerk's object to shoot him Mr. Smith does not know, but he callied at police headquarters last night and

The same causes which operated in bringing about higher prices yesterday held good again today, and the list scored a further improvement. that the soft coal strike is nearing an end, the better condition of the market for wheat and the comparatively favorable yearly reports of the Rock Island and Chicago and Northwest all tended to change cago and voltakes the temper of speculation and widen the market for stocks, especially for the railway issues. London was a disappointment, inasmuch as the foreigners did not respond much as the foreigners did not respond with larger buying orders in view of the rise here. Local operators, however, set to work early and soon established an advance of ¼ to 1 per cent. Baltimore and Ohio, the Grangers, Missouri Pacific and Western Union all were prominent in the upward movement. During the afternoon speculation became very quiet, but the rise noted was well maintained. New York Central was something of a feature at this time, selling up to 59%. In the Industrials the sales of Sugar fell from $5,500 yesterday to 39,200 shares. From The Stockholder, June 6th. "The day's installment of earnings was both interesting and instructive. It braced many roads and on the whole failed to show any betterment of condition. The inference from the results reported, earnings being the best gauge of general business, is that trade has not yet got through shrinking. Louisville and Nashville reflects this with a decrease of $74,000 the fourth week in May, against $67,000 the third week. "Low rates, the low price of cotton and stagnation in iron continue to militate against this system, Northern Pacific's gross earnings in May decreased $712,000. Its loss for the month preceding was $540,-000. This comparison confirms private advices from the Pacific coast that the situation in that direction is worse, instead of better. Southern roads, aside from the un-fortunate Louisville, reported yesterday small losses, $4,000 for the Richmond and Danville the fourth week in May, against $19,000 the third week, and Georgia Pacific, for May, $28,000. Denver and Rio Grande, the fourth week, decreased $58,000, against $12,000 the week preceding, the road being still subject to the evil effects of strikes and the depression in the mining industry "Chesapeake and Ohio the fourth week in May had a decrease in gross of $67,000, compared with a loss of $78,000 the week before, a slight improvement. International and Great Northern decreased $38,000, against $23,000 the week before. Texas Pacific in the same period decreased $33,000, as against $6,000 the third week, a disappointing result for that road. Wabash's decrease was

"The fourth week of May compares with a loss of $44,000 the week before, and shows that the company has felt the adverse effects of the coal strike, Among the increases reported for the month of May was $5,000 by Ontario and Western, $11,000 by the Norfolk and Western and $64,000 by the Mexican Central. Kansas and Texas the fourth week decreased $55,000, agains? $22,000 the week before."

Atwood Violett & Co.'s Cotton Letter By Private Wire to J. C. Knox. Manager. By Private Wire to J. C. Knox. Manager.

NEW YORK, June 7.—We have contended for a number of weeks past that the conditions prevailing all over this country, as the south was no exception, would prevened naturally any increased acreage in cotton cultivation this season, largely from the unwillingness by the cotton growers to increase liabilities under the existing circumstances, but mainly from the reason that the assistance from those who have here-tofore largely helped to grow cotton was not forthcoming, and, therefore, that, except in Texas, where the people, as a whole, are in better financial circumstances, there could not possibly be an enlarged area this year, and very probably a reduced area. The bureau in its May report indicated a reduction of acreage, and The Chronicle of today, which has been expected to show an increase of 6 to 7 per cent, makes the increase The bureau in its May report indicated a reduction of acreage, and The Chronicle of today, which has been expected to show an increase of 6 to 7 per cent, makes the increase a fraction over 2 per cent, and as the bureau is taken as the official figure by Europe, if not in this country, a confirmation of this figure by them will satisfy the cotton world that the acreage of this season will practically be the same as that of last year. We referred yesterday to The Chronicle's increase of acreage last year as being 7.29, while the business showed only ½ per cent increase. It is onlyf air to assume, therefore, that the bureau on Saturday will show less acreage than they reported last year on the same day. The Chronicle's figures today show an increase of 1 per cent in Georgia, 3 in Florida, 3 in Alabama, 2 in Mississippi, 1 in Louisiana, 1 in Arkansas, 8 in Texas and 8 in in the territories, southern Missouri and southern Virginia, and it also shows a decrease of 5 per cent in North Carolina, 2 in South Carolina and 8 in Tennessee. Europe has been advised for the past two months of an increased acreage anywhere from 7 to 15 per cent, and it seems probable, therefore, that the spinners will be more inclined to take cotton from this time because, while crop reports at this season, of the year may be very good or very poor, they are likely to change materially during the sixty or ninety days following, and, therefore, it seems that the most important point to be given attention always in the beginning of June is the area upon which the current crop is being grown. Liverpool closed at yesterday's prices. This market is 2 points higher. Port receipts 2,600 bales, against 3,300 last year.

In the last half hour, when evidences of large covering in the Grangers and good buying in other stocks created more of a boom than has been seen since early in April. The sentiment after the close was decidedly bullish. The points on Sugar averaged builish, although heavy realizing was admitted.

Traders covered in Chicago Gas, but in Distillers and Cattle Feeders there seemed to be new buying. Missouri Pacific was bought by the interests which have been bulling it lately, and there was some uneasiness among the sports in Louisville and Nashville, although they did not begin buying. Burlington and Quincy was returned Wednesday night, but there was more demand for Erie and Atchison. Transactions in St. Paul were 20,00 shares, and the price touched the best furres since May 15th.

Riordan & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

NEW YORK, June 7.—(Special)—Though the advice both here and in Liverpool today was inconsiderable, the market showed a great deal stubborn strength. The timidity of the bears about selling short seems to increase every day, and everybody admits tinat it is only the lack of fresh buying power that prevents a quick and sharp rise in prices. The Finapcial Chronicle's estimate of the increase of acreage was first given out as 3.07 per cent; subsequently, however, an error in the tabulated returns was discovered and the estimate was reduced to 2.06 per cent. It is very certain that this will be largely, if not wholly, offset by the reduction in the use of fertilizers, so that the season, after all, must determine the probable yield. Sugar opened at 7.27, sagged to 7.25, advanced to 7.31 and closed at 7.29 bid, with the tone steady. After the close 7.30 was bid for August. Unless Liverpool should break we think the uneasiness of the bears over the bureau report will cause a better market before the end of the week.

The Sun's Cotton Review.

NEW YORK, June 7.—Cotton declined 2 points, but recovered this and advanced 3 or 4, then—glosed steady at a rise for the day of 2 to 3 points. Sales, 76,000 bales. Liverpool declined 1 point and then regained it; spot sales, 10,000 bales. In Manchester yarns were quiet, but steady; cloths in moderate demand. Port receipts 2,578 against 2,365 this day last week, and 3,889 thus far last week. No exports today. Spot cotton 1-166 higher. Sales 600 for home trade. Southern market firm. Interior receipts light.

Today's features—The Chronicle's estimate of the increased acreage in this country of only 2,06 per cent, bad reports from northwest Georgia, some new buying, continued complaints of cold nights and the covering or shorts caused an advance in spite of disappointing Liverpool news.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

CHICAGO, June 7.—At the end of the session today wheat was off 360% of a cent from yesterday's closing figures: The fluctuations and change in the temper of the market showed a very unsettled feeling in the trade. There were vast quantities of wheat coming on the market throughout the entire day, while at the same time the buying gave evidence of renewed hope the entire day, while at the same time the buying gave evidence of renewed hope and confidence in the minds of those who have tenaciously clung to the bull side through the vicissitudes of the long drawnout decline that has just been brought to a close. This class of operators expressed satisfaction that prices held as well as they did today, claiming that they had hardly expected the extreme advance made yesterday to maintain. July opened from 59%c to 59%c, afterwards fluctuating very severely between 59%c and 58%c closing with the loss above noted at 58%c@58%c. Cash wheat was in good demand with prices following very closely on the futures.

loss above noted at 3%c/035%c. Cash wheat was in good demand with prices following very closely on the futures.

Corn—The feeling in this market and the change in price were controlled more by the action of the other grains than by the news directly bearing on themselves. The amount of business transacted was light in comparison with that seen in wheat and oats. Cables were ½4%d higher. July corn closed a shade under and September %c under yesterday. Cash corn was in good demand. Offerings were moderate. Prices ruled ½c under July for No. 2 and ½40½c over for No. 2 yellow.

Oats, in continuation of the strength and buoyancy of yesterday's market, opened firm and higher this morning. June closed firm and higher then yesterday and July unchanged. There was a good cash demand at higher prices. Car lots sold ½c better than yesterday.

Provisions were neglected until the last few minutes of the session, when prices became firm on some buying of pork and ribs

The feeling was easy at the start on a sligh decline in the price of live hogs and there after, until the buying already mentic prices held barely steady. July pork of ½c higher than yesterday. July la shade higher and July ribs 2½c higher.

Lamson Bros. & Co's. Grain Letter.

By Private Wire to J. C. Knox, Manager.
CHICAGO, June 7.—This has been a very active day in all the grain markets, it was not a market that was governed by news entirely, but was influenced by the large volume of trade on both sides. The shorts were very heavy buyers at times and holders with profits seemed as anxious to sell. Pardridge and his followers were also heavy sellers, and at times it seemed a mystery who was absorbing all the wheat. New York and St. Louis, however, contributed a great deal of this support, and the northwest was noted as a seller. Foreign advices had considerable to do in maintaining the strength. Closing cables were all higher, the tenor of foreign markets being quite bullish. Opening prices here proved to be the highest of the day, although there were very quick reactions on the decline that followed, and a few times it appeared as though the 60c mark might be reached and passeu. But the heavy selling on the hand spots after the advances we have had was a little too much for the market, and values ranged nervously between 5% and 55c during a great part of the session. The close tonight is only fairly firm, out prospects still seem to favor holders, although rains throughout the west would cause a weak feeling.

Coarse grains have been firm and active, especially oats. The Cincinnati Price Current was a little bearish on corn, and tut for the strength in the other grains it would probably seek a lower level.

Provisions were surprisingly stronger in view of the large hog receipts and decline in grain.

NEW YORK, June 7 .- Speculation at the when york, June 1.—Special today, the sales amounting to 175,000 shares against 217,000 yesterday. The same causes which constant of the same causes which corrected in bringing about higher prices yesterday held good again today, and the railway list scored a further improvement. A belief that the soft coal strike is nearing an end, the better condition of the market an end, the better condition of the market for wheat and the comparatively favorable yearly reports of the Rock Island and Chi-cago and Northwest all tended to change the temper of speculation and widen the market for stocks, especially for the railway issues. London was a disappointment, inasmuch as the foreigners did not respond with larger buying orders in view of the with larger buying orders in view of the rise here. Local operators, however, set to work early and soon established an advance of 1/2 to 1 per cent. Baltimore and Ohio, the Grangers, Missouri Pacific and Western Union all were prominent in the upward movement. During the afternoon speculation became very quiet, but the rise noted was well maintained. New York Central was something of a feature at Central was something of a feature at this time, selling up to 59%. In the Indus-trials the sales of Sugar fell from $7,500 trials the sales of Sales The fluctuations were on the same order, the extremes for the day having been 105½ and 107½, with the final transactions at 116½, the latter a net loss of % per cent for the day. There appears to be a disposition to go slow in this stock until the something definite is learned of the disposition of the senate schedule by the house. Chicago Gas was from the unit of the senate schedule by the house. Chicago Gas was schedule by the house. Chicago dis-firm throughout at 15½ to 76½. Operators generally believe that Moloney's proceed-ings against this company have been or will be abandoned. Brokers identified with in-siders were again buyers of Whisky. Gen-Electric was in better demand, rising 2½ to 38 with a reaction near the close to 37%. The reported appointment of receivers for the Fort Wayne Company was coners for the Fort Wayne Company was confirmed, the stock selling at its highest point after the announcement. Later in the day Lead loomed into prominence and a light trading was indulged in. It rose about a point to 40%. The market closed firm, notwithstanding the talk about shipments of at least $2,500,000 gold from this port and Boston on Saturday next. Financial Gossip.

Dow, Jones News Co., by private wire to 5. C. Knox, manager.—The market Wednesday was regarded as discanting the passage by the senate of the tariff bill. The defeat in the house of the attempt to repeal the tax on state bank circulation, and the strong rise in wheat helped the move-ment. The real feature of the market was in the last half hour, when evidences of large covering in the Grangers and good chase of from 8,000 to 10,000 shares by prominent Broadway house, which is sup-posed to have been short, and which bought its stock through brokers. There was some Chicago buying, and brokers who have had the Armour point to buy from 58c up added to their holdings and expressed confidence in a further rise.

Foreign and Domestic News Co. Foreign and Domestic News Co.: Stocks opened fractionally lower yesterday, owing to a lower market in London, but the buying of railroad securities by commission houses was better than for some time.

Distillers and Cattle Feeders was one of the strong features on pool manipulation. Sugar was weak on realizing sales and a decline of 1% was made. Bache & Co. and Ladenburg, Theban & Co. sold and Schapp was the principal buyer.

From The Stockholder, June 6th.
"The day's installment of earnings was both interesting and instructive. It embraced many roads and on the whole failed to show any betterment of condition. The inference from the results reported, earnings being the best gauge of general business, is that trade has not yet got through shrinking. Louisville and Nashville reflects this with a decrease of $74,000 the fourth week in May, against $67,000 the third week.
"Low rates, the low price of cotton and stagnation in iron continue to militate against this system. Northern Pacific's gross earnings in May decreased $712,000. Its loss for the month preceding was $540,-000. This comparison confirms private ad-vices from the Pacific coast that the situation in that direction is worse, instead of better. Southern roads, aside from the unfortunate Louisville, reported yesterday small losses, $4,000 for the Richmond and Danville the fourth week in May, against $19,000 the third week, and Georgia Pacific, for May, $28,000. Denver and Rio Grande the fourth week, decreased $58,000, against $42,000 the week preceding, the road being still subject to the evil effects of strikes and the depression in the mining industry. "Chesapeake and Ohio the fourth week in May had a decrease in gross of $67,000, pared with a loss of $78,000 the week t a slight improvement. International and Great Northern decreased $38,000, against $23,000 the week before. Texas Pacific in the same period decreased $33,000, as against $6,000 the third week, a disappointing result for that road. Wabash's decrease was

"The fourth week of May compares with a loss of $44,000 the week before, and shows that the company has felt the adverse effects of the coal strike. Among the increases reported for the month of May was $5,000 by Ontario and Western, $11,000 by the Norfolk and Western and $64,000 by the Mexican Central. Kansas and Texas the fourth week decreased $55,000, agains? $52,000 the week before."

Atwood Violett & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

By Private Wire to J. C. Knox. Manager.

NEW YORK, June 7.—We have contended for a number of weeks past that the conditions prevailing all over this country, as the south was no exception, would prevent naturally any increased acreage in cotton cultivation this season, largely from the unwillingness by the cotton growers to increase liabilities under the existing circumstances, but mainly from the reason that the assistance from those who have heretofore largely helped to grow cotton was not forthcoming, and, therefore, that, except in Texas, where the people, as a whole, are in better financial circumstances, there could not possibly be an enlarged area this year, and very probably a reduced area. The bureau in its May report indicated a reduction of acreage, and The Chronicle of today, which has been expected to show an intercent of the contract of By Private Wire to J. C. Knox. Manager. The bureau in its May report indicated a reduction of acreage, and The Chronicle of today, which has been expected to show an ilncrease of 6 to 7 per cent, makes the increase a fraction over 2 per cent, and as the bureau is taken as the official figure by Europe, if not in this country, a confirmation of this figure by them will satisfy the cotton world that the acreage of this season will practically be the same as that of last year. We referred yesterday to The Chronicle's increase of acreage last year as being 7.29, while the business showed only ½ per cent increase. It is onlyf air to assume, therefore, that the bureau on Saturday will show less acreage than they reported last year on the same day. The Chronicle's figures today show an increase of 1 per cent in Georgia, 3 in Florida, 3 in Alabama, 2 in Mississippl, 1 in Louisiana, 1 in Arkansas, 8 in Texas and 8 in in the territories, southern Missouri and southern Virginia, and it also shows a decrease of 5 per cent in North Carolina, 2 in South Carolina and 8 in Tennessee. Europe has been advised for the past two months of an increased acreage anywhere from 7 to 15 per cent, and it seems probable, therefore, that the spinners will be more inclined to take cotton from this time because, while crop reports at this season, of the year may be very good or very poor, they are likely to change materially during the sixty or ninety days following, and, therefore, it seems that the most important point to be given attention always in the beginning of June is the area upon which the current crop is being grown. Liverpool closed at yesterday's prices. This market is 2 points higher. Port receipts 2,600 bales, against 3,300 last year.

In the last half hour, when evidences of large covering in the Grangers and good buying in other stocks created more of a boom than has been seen since early in April. The sentiment after the close was decidedly bullish. The points on Sugar averaged bullish, although heavy realizing was admitted.

Traders covered in Chicago Gas, but in Distillers and Cattle Feeders there seemed to be new buying. Missouri Pacific was bought by the interests which have been bulling it lately, and there was some uneasiness among the shorts in Louisville and Nashville, although they did not begin buying. Burlington and Quincy was returned Wednesday night, but there was more demand for Erie and Atchison. Transactions in St. Paul were 20,000 shares, and the price touched the best figures since May 15th. The afternoon rise was due to the pur-Hubbard, Price & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

Riordan & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

NEW YORK, June 7.—(Special.)—Though the advice both here and in Liverpool today was inconsiderable, the market showed a great deal stubborn strength. The timidity of the bears about selling short seems to increase every day, and everybody admits tinat it is only the lack of fresh buying power that prevents a quick and sharp rise in prices. The Finagical Chronicle's estimate of the increase of acreage was first given out as 3.07 per cent; subsequently, however, an error in the tabulated returns was discovered and the estimate was reduced to 2.06 per cent. It is very certain that this will be largely, if not wholly, offset by the reduction in the use of fertilizers, so that the season, after all, must determine the probable yield. Sugar opened at 7.27, sagged to 7.25, advanced to 7.31 and closed at 7.29 bid, with the tone steady. After the close 7.30 was bid for August. Unless Liverpool should break we think the uneasiness of the bears over the bureau report will cause a better market before the end of the week.

The Sun's Cotton Review.

NEW YORK, June 7.—Cotton declined 2 points, but recovered this and advanced 3 or 4, then—closed steady at a rise for the day of 2 to 3 points. Sales, 75,000 bales. Liverpool declined 1 point and then regained it; spot sales, 10,000 bales. In Manchester yarns were quiet, but steady; cloths in moderate demand. Port receipts 2,578 against 2,365 this day last week, and 3,899 thus far last week. No exports today. Spot cotton 1-16c higher. Sales 600 for home trade. Southern market firm. Interior receipts light.

trade. Southern market ceipts light.

Today's features—The Chronicle's estimate of the increased acreage in this country of only 2.06 per cent, bad reports from northwest Georgia, some new buying, continued complaints of cold nights and the covering of shorts caused an advance in spite of disappointing Liverpool news.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

CHICAGO, June 7.—At the end of the session today wheat was off 340% of a cent from yesterday's closing figures. The fluctuations and change in the temper of the market showed a very unsettled feeling in the trade. There were vast quantities of wheat coming on the market throughout the entire day, while at the same time the buying gave evidence of renewed hope and confidence in the minds of those who have tenaciously clung to the bull side through the vicissitudes of the long drawnout decline that has just been brought to a close. This class of operators expressed satisfaction that prices held as well as they did today, claiming that they had hardly expected the extreme advance made yesterday to maintain. July opened from 58%c to 58%c, afterwards fluctuating very severely between 58%c and 58%c, closing with the loss above noted at 58%c638%c. Cash wheat was in good demand with prices following very closely on the futures.

Corn—The feeling in this market and the change in price were controlled more by the action of the other grains than by the news directly bearing on themselves. The amount of business transacted was light in comparison with that seen in wheat and oats. Cables were 140% d higher. July corn closed a shade under and September ½c under yesterday. Cash corn was in good demand. Offerings were moderate. Prices ruled ½c under July for No. 2 and 140½c over for No. 2 yellow.

Oats, in continuation of the strength and buoyancy of yesterday's market, opened firm and higher this monning. June closed

Oats, in continuation of the strength and buoyancy of yesterday's market, opened firm and higher this morning. June closed 1%c higher than yesterday and July unchanged. There was a good cash demand at higher prices. Car lots sold ½c better than yesterday.

Provisions were neglected until the last few minutes of the session, when prices became firm on some buying of pork and ribs by the Cudahy Packing Company. Previous to that there was no trading of note. The feeling was easy at the start on a slight feeling was easy at the start on a slight decline in the price of live hogs and thereafter, until the buying already mentioned, prices held barely steady. July pork closed Tige higher than yesterday, July lard a shade higher and July ribs 2½c higher. The leading intures ranged as lollows in Chicago

Lamson Bros. & Co's. Grain Letter. By Private Wire to J. C. Knox, Manager. CHICAGO, June 7.—This has been a very active day in all the grain markets. It was not a market that was governed by mews entirely, but was influenced by the large volume of trade on both sides. The shorts were very heavy buyers at times and holders with profits seemed as anxious to sell. Pardridge and his followers were also heavy sellers, and at times it seemed a mystery who was absorbing all the wheat. New York and St. Louis, however, contributed a great deal of this support, and the northwest was noted as a seller. Foreign advices had considerable to do in maintaining the strength. Closing cables were all higher, the tenor of foreign markets being quite bullish. Opening prices here proved to be the highest of the day, although there were very quick reactions on the decline that followed, and a few times it appeared as though the 60c mark might be reached and passed. But the heavy selling on the hand spots after the advances we have had was a little too much for the market, and values ranged nervously between 58½ and 55c during a great part of the session. The close tonight is only fairly firm, out prospects still seem to favor holders, although rains throughout the west would cause a weak feeling.

Coarse grains have been firm and active, especially oats. The Cincinnati Price Current was a little bearish on corn, and tut for the strength in the other grains it would probably seek a lower level.

Provisions were surprisingly stronger in view of the large hog receipts and decline in grain.

Work That Is Being Done by the Different Boards.

TWO MEETINGS HELD YESTERDAY

At Both There Was a Good Deal of Important Business Done.

THE WOMAN'S BOARD IN THE MORNING

And the Exposition Board in the After noon-The Work That Is Being Done. Exposition News and Notes.

Things are on a boom about exposition headquarters these days and there is everything there to indicate the push and energy that is back of this great enterprise. The regular meeting of the exposition board was held yesterday afternoon. Almest every member was present. In the absence of President Collier, who has gone to Washington, Vice President Hemphili presided over the meeting.

Several hours were spent in attending to such work as was presented by the various committees, and some very important action was taken.

The exposition board has taken steps to at once obtain from competent contractors estimates under bond for the removal of the government building from Chicago to Atlanta, and as soon as these have been received they will be taken to Washington for the purpose of aiding in pushing through the appropriation bill, in which all the south is so deeply interested. The advices from Washington are all that could be expected. The favorable report of the appropriations committee brings great joy to all who have the exposition at heart, as it is generally believed that, with the prestige of a favorable report from the committee, the bill will go through the house without very much trouble.

Director General Palmer, who has been ill at his home for several days, will, as soon as he is able, go to Louisiana for the purpose of presenting to the Louislana legislature the importance of making an exhibit at the exposition.

Official information came from the wo men's department as to the organization which has been perfected in that department, and the officers who have been se lected and the committees that have been named. On the suggestion of the committee which conferred with the executive committee of the women's department, it was decided to increase that executive committee from five to nine, and the following ladies were added to the committee: Mrs.

Joseph Hirson, Mrs. W. A. Hemphill, Mrs. W. M. Dickson and Mrs. Nellie Feters Black. Mrs. A. B. Steele, who had tendered her resignation as secretary to the meeting of the women's board held yesterday merning, was unanimously elected a mem ber of the executive committee of the wo men's department to act in the place of Mrs. Barrett during the absence of the latter lady; and this was done with the understanding that Mrs. Steele's election to membership on the committee was permanent. Mrs. Steele has been one of the most active members of the women's board. All of the members of the exposition board expressed hearty approval of the work which the ladies have done, and promised their co-operation in any way possible.

Mr. J. G. Oglesby and Mr. H. C. Stockdell were elected members of the board of directors of the exposition company, their names having been favorably reported by the executive committee.

A communication from President Collier announced the appointment of some subcommittees on subscription, and also of a committee on transportation. The report was accepted, but it was found that several of the gentlemen named could not serve and President Collier will make some changes before the committees are dennitely announced. In addition to this, a great deal of routine business was attended to. The board was to a man enthusiastic about the exposition outlook, and the work done yesterday indicates that there is nothing like a lull in it. All of the members are hard at work on their committees, and things are being pushed prward just as rapidly as is possible.

THE LADIES IN SESSION.

The Board Had an Important Meeting Yesterday Morning.

The meeting of the board of managers of the woman's department of the exposition which was held yesterday morning in the exposition rooms was a very satisfactory and interesting one. Many necessary plans were clearly formulated and defined, and the gathering was thoroughly harmonious in every way.

It was not a very large meeting as the time had not been fully understood by all members of the board. The ladies present were: Mrs. Lanler, Mrs. Felton, Mrs. Gordon, Mrs. Inman, Mrs. A. B. Steele, Mrs. W. A. Hemphill, Mrs. J. K. Ohl, Mrs. Henry B. Tompkins, Mrs. John Keely. Mrs. Lanier, the first vice president, presided in Mrs. Thompson's absence with grace and dignity.

Mrs. Felton opened up a world of interest and added greatly to the enthusiasm by her delightful and eloquent talk about the woman's building at the world's fair and its accomplishments in the different de-partments. She has seen, too, with her fine comprehensive intellect, all the faults in that woman's building, and through her knowledge we have the benefit of profiting by those mistakes. She made so many valuable suggestions and said so many interesting things that it is rather difficult to choose from them without giving the entire

Perhaps, however, the strongest and most vital point she brought forward was that the woman's building should not be made a place for commercial exhibits by women but that these things should take their places in the buildings where they belonged, and that the woman's building should show rather the progressive, the artistic, the scientific, the literathe artistic, the scientific, the literary and industrial progress of our modern civilization. She further maintained that all articles in the woman's building should compete, if so desired, by their exhibits, for the same prizes offered for such work in the other buildings, and that the same set of expert judges as were appointed for these other exhibits should review these exhibits in the woman's building relative to the prises. This was heartily endorsed by all the women present, and they signed their names to the resolution bearing on the matter and written by Mrs. compete, if so desired, by their exhibits, they signed their names to the resolution bearing on the matter and written by Mrs. Felton. Mrs. Felton told some beautiful stories of the great charitable organizations of women throughout the country. She is now compiling, in conjunction with Mrs. Potter Palmer and the lady managers, a book on the subject of the organizations of women, and gathering the material for this work has given her a broad insight into their work throughout the world.

It is her idea to have all these organizations represented here and to have some especial place set apart for the comfort of their members who visit the exposition. The hearers were all in sincere sympathy with all that she proposed, for they felt that she was, by experience and intellectual ability, thoroughly well fitted to advise and direct much of the arrangements for the woman's department.

Mrs. Hemphill, chairman of the educational committee, invited her, when she had finished her talk, to give the same delightful chat on woman's clubs and charities before the educational committee.

Mrs. Ohl proposed the name of Mrs. William Dickson as chairman of the finance committee and she was lunginguely class.

committee, and she was unanimously elected to that office. The idea of this commit-tee is sigp y that the chairman should re-ceive all the funds made or contributed to the woman's building and turn them into the treasury of the exposition company. Mrs. Dickson is a most excellent selection for this place, for she has boundless energy and spiendid business ability, and she will have a great deal of influence in obtaining funds. A committee, consisting of Mrs. W. A. Hemphill, Mrs. A. B. Steele, Mrs. Keely and Mrs. Ohl, was appointed on by-laws for the woman's department.

Mrs. A. B. Steele handed in her resignation as secretary pro tem. This was uni-versally regretted by all the ladies present, and they arose in a body and begged that she reconsider her decision. This, how-ever, I am officially informed by her is mpossible for her to do, as her reasons are such as to make her feel that she cannot reconsider the matter. Her resignation 8this a source of sincere regret to the entire She has discharged the arduous and trying duties of a secretary's posi-tion with splendid ability, arranging and systematizing the work so ast to make her part of it perfect throughout. She was eminently suited to the position and took it with the most enthusiastic spirit imaginable. It seems a great pity that she finds it impossible to continue in the position.

will be held on the coming Thursday, June 14th, at 10 o'clock in the morning. All the members of the board and the members of the executive board are earnestly requested to be present, as the business is most important. All the chairmen of the committees, it will be understood, are members of the board, and it is to be hoped that none of them who are in the city will be absent on the important occasion

A Meeting at Mrs. Hagan's. The ways and means committee had a large and enthusiastic meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Hugh Hagan. Mrs. Hagan as a presiding officer is inimitable. She is full of enthusiasm herself and she conves that feeling to others through her tact and consideration and her sincere public-spiritedness.

Arrangements were made by the committee for an entertainment to be given for the benefit of the woman's department on the afternoon and evening of June 14th, the atternoon and evening of June 14th, the hours to be from 8 until 11. The affair is to be a fad party, and will be given in the payilion at Ponce de Leon. The idea is an entirely new one, and it will be a very brilliant affair. Each person is to represent his or her favorite fad, and the one who does this most excessfully will rene who does this most successfully will receive a prize. There will also be a guesswith a prize awarded to the who makes the most correct guesses. For children under ten years of age the ad-mission will be free, and for grown people a quarter will be charged to enter the pavilion. Ice cream, cake, sandwiches, beer and lemonade will be served at very moderate prices. The affair will be a jolly mid-summer frolic and is sure to be largely attended.

Hospitals and Charities Today. Mrs. Nellie P. Black, chairman of the committee on hospitals and charities of the Cotton States and International exposition, earnestly requests every member of the committee to meet at her home, 639 Peachtree, this (Friday) morning at 11 o'clock. The following ladies compose the committee: Mrs. McLendon, Mrs. Dr. Hobbs, Mrs. E. P. Chamberlin, Mrs. Quill Orme, Mrs. George Adair, Mrs. Arthur Locke, Mrs. E. W. Martin, Mrs. Dr. Turner, Mrs. Dr. Spalding, Mrs. John Keely, Mrs. George Parrott, Mrs. Alex King, Mrs. John Temple Graves, Mrs. F. C. Malone, Mrs. Prioleau, Mrs. Boyd, Mrs. L. B. Weather Synopsis and Forecast. The weather throughout the country last night, at 7 o'clock, was perfectly clear, with the exception of the north Atlantic night, at 7 o'clock, was perfectly clear, with the exception of the north Atlantic states, Colorado, Nebraska and western Texas, where it was cloudy. The area of low barometer mentioned in yesterday's report as being central over the northwest, has made very little, if any, progress during the past twenty-four hours, although it has increased in energy, and the temperature in that section of the country continues to rise, and, at 7 o'clock last night, the temperatures within the low registered from 80 to 82 degrees in the shade, while in Atlanta it was only 73 degrees.

The "high," now central over this section, will continue on its eastward course, and make room for the northwestern low, which will, in all probability, cause a rise in temperature in this section, as it moves eastward. No rain of any consequence fell anywhere yesterday, although a few light showers were reported from stations situated in Florida, Maryland and the eastern lake regions. The highest temperature in Atlanta yesterday was 80, which was 3 degrees cooler than the preceding day.

For Georgia today: Fair weather.

CITY NOTES.

ENTERTAINMENT FOR RAILROAD Men.—The "rally" given by the Railroad Young Men's Christian Association a week ago was so much of a success that it was voted to hold another this week. Tonight it will be repeated.

MR. BARGE BETTER.-The many friends of Mr. J. J. Barge, of the law firm of Par-ker & Barge, who has been, for several weeks, so dangerously ill at the home of his weeks, so dangerously if at the home of his father, will be glad to hear that he is now much better. For some time it looked as if his illness would baffle the skill of the attending physicians, but they have given out the gratifying news that there is much hope for his rapid recovery.

VERDICT FOR DEFENDANT .- In the suit of Mothershed against L. J. Hill, in-Judge Lumpkin's court, a verdict was brought in for the defendant.

ADJOURNED AT 10 O'CLOCK .- Judge Westmoreland's court was in session only an hour or more yesterday morning, disposing of some minor business.

A Motion to Defer the Trial of Mr. Ed McCandless.

SOME SENSATIONAL EVIDENCE PROMISED

The Argument of Captain Harry Jackson Gives an Insight Into What. Is Coming-Will Be Decided Today.

An insight into the coming trial of Mr. Ed McCandless in the United States court was given yesterday when a motion to postpone the case came up before Judge

From the drift of things it is evident that a relentless fight will be made by the counsel for prosecution. It is also evident that all of the ultra-sensational de-tails of the Redwine trial will be repeated, and, in addition to the evidence introduced during that memorable trial, other testiof an unexpected nature will be

It was 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon when the motion was made by Captain Harry Jackson, who is still retained as the special counsel of the government, to postpone the case until the next term of court. Mr. B. H. Hill, representing Mr. McCandless, objected to the motion and urged that the case should be called on the 18th of his month, as regularly set on the calendar. No result was reached, however, as Judge Newman reserved his decision until today at 10 o'clock.

Captain Jackson's argument in favor of postponement was emphatic.

"May it please your honor," he said,
"the government is not ready in this case and I think it will better serve the ends of justice for a postponement to be made."

Mr. Hill objected upon the ground that the reason given for postponement was too

"I cannot state without hurting my case," replied Captain Jackson, "just what circum-stances urge me to make this motion, but I will say that since the trial of Lewis Redwine I have been busily engaged in preparing this case. I have personally traveled a thousand mues getting the evidence in shape and if we were ready the government would go to trial at once. I am just as anxious to have a speedy trial as Mr. McCandless."

Captain Jackson stated further that the government proposed to prove that Mc-Candless aided and abetted Redwine in his embezzlement in that he assisted Red-wine in covering up his crime at the time when the $25,000 was removed from the receiving teller's to the paying teller's desk. Upon this he argued that he was now collecting important testimony. The nature of the testimony he falled to explain, except that it was to his mind conclusive, coming as it did from one of the employes of the bank who has since moved away. He intimated that he had in store testimony entirely unexpected and which in the trial would have potent influence.

Mr. B. H. Hill put in strenuous objection to any delay and emphasized the frequent demands of Mr. McCandless for a speedy Judge Newman will render his decision upon the postponement this morning at 10 o'clock.

Without an error the Atlantas played It was a game full of life and quick, snappy plays—just such a game as never loses.

conover was in the box for Atlanta when the Nashville men came first to bat, and for the first three innings his work was of the finest order. But in the fourth he let down materially and was touched for a single and two home runs.

Chard it was who took Conover's place after the fourth, and notwithstanding the fact that he had pitched the day before, his work was of the best character, crly one of the six runs Nashville made being secured after Chard entered the box.

Borchers was wild when the game opened and his wildness gave Atlanta a big start on the game in the first, a start the Nashvilles could not head off.

Long opened the game with a hit, but went out trying to steal second. Blake got his first on Whitehead's error and went to second when Boland was given his first on balls. Borchers put the ball against on bans, borners put the ban against Ryan's shoulder hard and the bases were full. Burke's back was bruised by one of Borchers's hard throws and Biake was forced in. Then two-baggers by Boyle and Gilman cleaned the bases, giving Atlanta five runs.

Nashville could do nothing until the third, when Borchers got hit, was sacrificed to second and came home on Whitehead's single, that same single sending Sweeney, who had earned his first on balls, to third. Dooley's single scored Sweeney.

Nashville tied the score in the fourth.

With one man out, Moran singled and then Borchers found a home run. O'Brien, the next man up, hit the ball for a complete circuit and the score was tied.

Then it was that Manager Sullivan took Conover out and put Chard in. A single by Boland, a single by Ryan, a stolen base by Ryan and a single by Boyle gave Atlanta two runs in the fitth, both being earned. Atlanta added another run in the sixth. Long started it with a hit and was forced in by a base on balls to the next three men and that, too, after two men were out. Hitting by the Nashvilles put Moran over the plate in the sixth.

A single by Blake and his good base running, aided by Boland's two-bagger, gave Atlanta another in the eighth. The score was:

Savannah, Ga., June 7.—Today's game was a battle of pitchers. Savannah won on New Orleans' errors, made at critical points. Kelly arrived today and umpired points. Kelly arrived today and umpired to the satisfaction of both sides. There were no reoccurrences of the scenes of the day before and the crowd and players were both satisfied with the result. The errors which cost New Orleans the game were made by the shortstop and the first and second basemen. The score:

Mobile Shut Out.

Charleston, S. C., June 7.—McFarland was the stumbling block which Mobile run against today. His pitching was of the gilt-edge order. Knorr also pitched a good game, but his support at critical stages was poor. McLaughlin was decidedly off in some of his decisions, although they would only have effected the number of runs Charleston made. Fields's home run was the feature. The score:

A DAY WITH THE HORSES.

The Epsom Grand Prize-Large Crow at Latonia and Morris Park.

Morris Park Race Track, June 7.—The weather was perfect today for racing and a large crowd enjoyed the sport. The track was in good condition and the programme an excellent one. The two events around which most interest centered were the ladies' stakes and the Fort Schuyller stakes. In the ladies' stakes Nahma a 4 to 1 shot carried off the honors. Kentigerna, the fa-vorte, finished third.

vorite, finished third.
Captain T. cut out the work in the race for the Fort Schuyller stakes until within a furlong from home, when Long Beach forged to the front and won in a drive by a length and a half. The talent suffered serious loss today as only two favorites won—Correction and Sir Walter.
First race, for three-year-olds and upwards, five furlongs, Correction 6 to 5 won, Wah Jim second, Lustre third. Time, 58%. Second race, handicap, one and one-half

The Grand Prize.

The Grand Prize.

London, June 7.—The Epsom grand prize of 1,000 sovereigns, for three-year-olds, over the city and suburban course, about one mile and a quarter, was won by Mr. T. Cannon's Reminder, the third horse in the Derby yesterday. Mr. Douglass Baird's Sempronius second and Lord Howe's Findale third. Reminder won in a canter by a length and a half. Sempronius fluished three lengths ahead of Findale. Time, 2.20-1-5. The other starters were Baron de Rothschild's Styx. duke of Portland's Galston, Mr. John Bibby's Chin Chin and Mr. E. Foster's King Chariberl. The betting was 5 to 2 against Reminder, 3 to 1 against Sempronius, 8 to 1 against Fridale, 9 to 2 against Styx, 7 to 1 against Fridale, 9 to 2 against Chin Chin and 20 to 1 against King Chariberl. The great surrey breeders' foal plate of 1.200 sovereigns, five furlongs, was won by T. Cannon's Curzon; the duke of Hamilton's The Nipper was second and J. Simmon's Prince Simon third.

Made 21.75 Knots. Philadelphia, Pa., June 7.—The cruiser Minneapolis in a run off the Delaware capes today under forced draught made 21.75 knots in an hour. This is three-quarters of a knot better than the Columbia did on her preliminary trial. The Minne-apolis reached her dock at Cramp's yards at 6:15 o'clock this afternoon.

The Valkyrie and Vigilant. London, June 7.—Lord Dunraven's Valkyrie and George and Howard Gould's Vigilant have been entered for the regattas of the Royal Munster Yacht Club at Queenstown, on July 23d, and the Royal Cork Yacht Club on July 24th and 25th. The prince of Wales's Britannia has been entered for the Penzana regatta on July 27th. It is expected that the Vigilant will compete in the same race.

WEDDING BELLS.

They Are Set to Ringing These Merry June Days.

MARRIAGE OF MISS COHEN AND MR. WISE

Dr. Frank Dennis and Miss Rice in Atlanta-Other Matrimonial Events-Notes and Gossip About Society.

A very pretty nome wedding was that rhich united Dr. Frank L. Dennis and diss Charlotte Corday Rice last evening at 7 o'clock at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Powell, at 81 Walton street. Incidentally it may be mentioned that Mrs. Powell and Miss Rice's mother were boarding school confidences in their girl-hood days and together wove many pretty romances about their future matrimonial conquests, and it seems a touching coincidence that it should devolve upon the surviving devoted friend of the mother of this orphan girl to give the daughter in marriage. The ceremony was impressively per-formed by Dr. E. H. Barnett in the presence of the immediate relatives and few of the most intimate friends of the bride and groom. Wurn's orchestra played the wedding march, by which the bridal couple, preceded by Miss Stella Knott as maid of honor and Mr. George Swift as best man, entered the parlor. The bride was gowned in an artistic creation of white taffeta and chiffon, which harmonized perfectly with the personality of the girlish wearer. The bridal bouquet was of bride roses and maidenhair ferns. The maid of honor wore pink and white or-gandle and carried La France roses, making a pretty foil for the lily-like bridal array. The party stood in an alcove improvised for the occasion by artistically draping the rectangular bay window on the western side rectangular bay window on the western side of the room with snowy netting and lace curtains. Immediately above and back of the bride hung a life-size portrait of her father, framed in white and gold and garlanded with smilax, which garniture was gracefully intermingled with the dranger of the rocess and it required to drapery of the recess and it required no great effort of the imagination to fancy the grave, tender smile of the pictured face above, resting in loving benediction upon his child as she plighted her troth.

upon his child as she plighted her troth. On either side stood a tall palm, the whole making an exquisite scene.

After the ceremony had been performed and congratulations had been showered upon the young people, the more substantial side of life began to assert itself and refreshments were in order and the guests refreshments were in order and the guests re-paired to the dining room. Here the decorations were dainty and artistic. Fes-toons of tulle, looped with maidenhair ferns and roses, depended from the chandelier and were caught at the corners of the bride's table with spays of the same garni-ture, while the festioning effect was conture, while the festooning effect was continued from the edge of the table with as-paragus ferns and tulle. The guests were seated at small tables with covers for four and flowers adorned each table. Refreshments were served from 8 to 9 o'clock, after which the special young lady friends of the bride, seven in number, who would have been the bridesmaids had it been a courch wedding, assembled in the drawing room to consult the fates as to which shall be the next bride and who among them is to be a spinster by cutting a cake containing a ring and a 10-cent silver coin, the bride-elect being the one who is fortunate enough to cut the slice containing the ring, while the prospective spinster has but a small amount of silver lining in the clouds of her matrimonial disappointments. The cake was placed on a large silver waiter, imbedded in daises and fringed with ferns, and a pretty con-ceit of this part of the festivities was the favors, which consisted of they white slik bags filled with rice and each artistically fastened to a pretty card, with the name of the young lady to whom presented written in gold. This idea contained a twofold suggestion, the name of the bride being Rice and it being the custom to shower rice on the bridal couple as a talisman for good luck. The favors were the happy thought of the maid of honor, Miss Stella Knoit, who, together with Misses Hattie Johnson, Lillie Williams, Corinna Boyd, Nell O'Donnelly, Annie Powell and Grace Boyd, were the seven young ladies who participated in the cake cutting. Miss Lillie Williams was the fortunate young lady who got the ring, and, if reports be true, the article was corthus far, but the fact that Miss Nell O'Donnelly got the silver coin proves that it is not infallible, as so rare a flower will never be permitted to wither in spinsterhood. The numerous beautiful and valuable presents received attest the popularity of the recipients. The groom's present to the bride was an exquisitely wrought dagger, set with pearls and diawrought dagger, set with pears and the monds. Mr. and Mrs. Dennis left at 10:45 o'clock p. m via the Georgia railroad for North Carolina, where they will spend their honeymoon.

On the 14th, at the home of the bride's parents, near Social Circle, Miss Elizabeth Graves will be married to Mr. Pelham Neal, of this city. The wedding, will be a very quiet one, only immediate relatives of parties being present. No invitations have been issued.

Miss Minnie L. Bellamy, one of the most beautiful and attractive young ladies of Atlanta, left yesterday for a visit to friends in Cleveland, Tenn. Miss Bellamy will be absent from the city several months and will spend a while on Lookout mountain and in all probability will visit Asheville, N. C., before she returns.

The progressive card party given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Tyler at her elegant mansion on Peachtree was in every respect an affair elegant and charming. The assemblage in itself was fresh and picturesque, for a gathering of fashionable women in the coquettish freshness of summer attire is a pretty sight and they were well set against the hangings and furnishings of this luxurious home, its flowers and lovely lamps. The game was played with great interest and at its conclusion the prizes were won as follows: played with great interest and at its conciusion the prizes were won as follows: First prize, a beautiful Dresden cheese dish, won by Mrs. George Harris. Second prize, a handsome silver belt buckle, won by Mrs. Hugh Hagan. Consolation prize, elegant pair of silver scissors, won by Mrs. St. Julian Ravenel. Booby, a bisque rabbit, won by Mrs. Nellie Peters Black.

Augusta, Ga., June 7.—(Special.)—Miss Caroline Hazelhurst Cohen and Mr. Barton Haxall Wise, of Richmond Va., were married at 8:30 o'clock tonight in the old St. Paul's Episcopal church, by the rector, Rev. C. C. Williams. It was an old fashioned wedding and the most elegant and brillant social affair that has occurred in Augusta in many years.

The interior of the church was beautifully decorated with banks upon banks of ferns and potted plants and smilax.

The church was brilliantly illuminated with pyramids of candles.

The bride and attendants entered from the vestibule. First, came Master Rodney Cohen, dressed in a royal suit of pink satin. Following entered, alone, little Miss Mary Wayne, of Savannah, a cousin of the bride, who was maid of honor. She carried a white, kid-covered Bible, which she presented to the rector, and out of which the service was read.

Then came the bridesmaids, two and two, and the groomsmen, two and two in the

After the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the Reynoids street home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Ellen Wright Cohen, where a reception was held. After receiving congratulations Mr. and Mrs. Wise left at midnight for Atlanta, en route to Canada, on their bridal tour.

The house was handsomely decorated with pals, fern and holly, which artistically draped the parlors and halls.

The bride is the only daughter of the late Philip Lawrence Cohen and a grand-daughter of General A. R. Wright. Since her debut into society, three years ago, she has been a reigning belle wherever she visited, as well as at home.

Mr. Wise is a grandson of the late Governor Henry Wise, of Virginia, and his mother was a Miss Haxall, a member of a Virginia family noted for beauty. He is also a nephew of the distinguished John S. Wise. He is a young and brilliant lawyer, with a bright future before him.

Mr. and Mrs. Wise will make their home in Norfolk, Va. They were the recipients of many handsome and costly presents, and countless congratulatory telegrams.

Among the prominent visitors to the wedding were Captain William A. Wright, of Atlanta, comptroller general of the state, who is an uncle of the bride; Hon, and Mrs. Fieming G. dullignon, Mr. and Mrs. Peter G. Meldrim, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. AGAINST THE BANK.

Bookkeeper Crossthwaite Gets a Verdict for $2,675.

DAVID LAMAR'S FINE ITALIAN HAND

He Worked an Elegan: Scheme with Sig nal Success-J. H. and A. L. James the Sufferers-Lamar Has Leit.

The suit of Crossthwait against James's bank was brought to a close yesterday morning in Judge Westmoreland's court by a verdict of $2,675 against the bank.

Back of this verdict is an interesting story recalling the adventures and misdeeds of David Lamar, of life insurance notoriety.

In the early part of May, 1892, H. C. Crossthwait, then a bookkeeper and out of employment at that time, read a notice in an Atlanta paper from the International Railway Accident Association of Atlanta, Ga., stating that they wanted a bookkeeper. The advertisement stated that the association would require of the bookekeeper to deposit as a guaranty to the company the sum of $1,000 in some bank. Crossthwait replied to the advertisement and accordingly he went to the office of the association and there met David Lamar, who gained considerable notoriety during his stay in Crossthwait and Lamar entered into contract in which Crossthwait was to get $100 per month as bookkeeper, but he was required to deposit $1,000 in the bank of J. H. &. A. L. James. This was on the 10th of May. The thousand dollars was deposit-ed in James's bank in accordance with that agreement, and on the 18th of May Crossthwait informed Lamar that he would have to have a basis upon which to arrive at a balance so as to get his books in proper shape. Lamar gave him a balance of $6,500 telling him that that amount had been put in as capital stock. Acting upon that basis the balance appearing on the book was $4,147.23. Crossthwait informed Lamar what the balance was and gave him a statement to that effect. Lamar immediately went to the bank of J. H. & A. L. James and soon came back, according to the allegations, with a new pass book on that bank with a balance of $4,147.23, appearing on the Matters, it seems, went along very smoothly for several weeks, and Cross-thwait decided that it was a pretty good usiness and that he could probably make more by taking an interest in the business than he could at a saiary. Accordingly he made some inquiry as to whether or not there was any stock for sale. David Lamar approached him shortly thereafter and informed him that he would sell him a third interest in the concern for $1.500 cash. interest in the concern for $2,500 cash.

Before Crossthwait decided to buy he took the precaution to go to the bank of J. H. & A. L. James and asked Mr. James if the balance appearing to the credit of the association on the pass book was correct. Mr. James informed him that it was and told him: "You go to Lamar and put your-self in his hands, and he will treat you right and make you money." Crossthwait claims that he relied on that representation, gave a mortgage on his place on which he secured $4,500, and to-gether with the thousand dollars in James's bank he turned the amount over to Lamar for one-third interest in the association But a short while intervened until Lamar got into a controversy with a Mr. Hall in which Hall, it appears, came out first best. Following that, Lamar was arrested on several warrants, Crossthwait going on his bond in each particular instance.

Finally Crossthwait became alarmed and went with a friend to Mr. James's residence about 9 o'clock at night and calling Mr. James out, asked him what was the balance to the association's credit in the bank Mr James told him that there was no balance; that their account was overdrawn $200. Crossthwait then asked him: "Has any heavy checks been drawn recently? said: "No; the money was not in the bank to start with."

On the trial of Lamar, J. H. James testifled that on the 18th or 19th of May, 1892, which turned out to be the very same day that this pass book was furnished to the association and which was delivered to Crossthwait, Lamar came to James and

There is to quite a number of engineers in the city, or are already in the city, and for the purpose of making a good showing I want you to enter a credit on the pass book of $1,000. James testified that he was willing to do that provided Lamar would give the association's note for $4,000, and at the same time give him a check against the the same time give him a check against the $4,000. He stated that the reason he required the check against it was that he might be out of the city and Lamar might check on the bank and it might be paid in his absence, and for that reason he required a check for $4,000, given against this credit of $4,000. On the pass book, of course, the $4,000 check did not appear. James also testified that it was understood that the $4,000 should be applied to losses to policy holders should there, be any. It turned out that during the whole time there was but one hundred and twenty-odd dollars in losses. Crossthwait felt that he had been defrauded out of his money by James's representation turning out to be absolutely false. Consequently he brought suit to recover $2,500 with interest. On the trial of the case the jury returned a verdict for $2,675, only one juror dissenting. He held out until about midnight last night, when he consented to the verdict. It was made known this morning.
